NAZI GOVERNMENT PROTESTS SPEECH BY CARDINAL MUNDELEIN

GERMAN AMBASSADOR INSTRUCTED TO STAND FOR NO INSULTS TO HITLER

BERLIN, May 20.—(AP)—A "vigorous and energetic" representation to the United States government by Dr. Hans H. Dieckhoff, the German ambassador to Washington, was disclosed today as Nazi Germany's newest reaction to an anti-Hitler speech by George, Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago.

An official communique issued by the German news agency, D. N. B., said:

"The German embassy at Washington made energetic representations in the state department on account of the silly and tactless insults to the Feuhrer and Reischchancellor by Chicago Cardinal Mundelein."

The controlled press bannerlined the action as "energetic German protest in U. S. A."

(At Washington, it was stated the representations were made informally.)

An official spokesman, discussing the protest, said Dr. Dieckhoff's general instructions to stand for no "insults" to Adolf Hitler and his regime were explicit, and that the Mundelein representations "followed automatically in the wake of duties."

Dr. Dieckhoff is just beginning his career as German ambassador at Washington. He recently succeeded Dr. Hans Luther, who carried to the state department the third reich's protests against anti-Hitler uterances by Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

These were in turn followed by Berlin representations by the United States ambassador against Nazi press attacks on American citiens and institutions.

Trials Called Propaganda.

Cardinal Mundelein, on Tuesday, said in a diocesan speech at Chicago that the German trials of priests and lay brothers on immorality charges constituted propaganda worse than the atrocity tales of the world war. He termed Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels "crooked" and said of Hitler that he was "an Austrian paperhanger, and a poor one at that."

The German press immediately burst into protest, asking if the Holy See would permit such a speech. At Vatican City, prelates said the Cardinal had a right to speak his own mind, and that the holy see yould not interfere.

Press protests, started by Goebbels' der Angriff, were taken up by virtually all newspapers.

Last night, in a speech before the institute of politics at the University of Berlin, Prof. Friedrich Schoenemann, who just has returned from a trip to the Unit-

ESCAPED LIFE TERM CONVICT CAPTURED IN FT. WORTH THURSDAY

LAVAL STEVENS, ONE OF FOUR ESCAPING THE GREGG COUNTY JAIL, ARRESTED

FORT WORTH, May 20.—(AP)—Laval Stevens, 23, life term convict who escaped from the Gregg county jail with three other prisoners on May 14, was arrested while driving an automobile in the 3000 block of Mount Vernon street at 6 a. m. today by Radio Patrolmen Barbee and Hawkins.

Search for Stevens in this vicinity began a few hours prior to the arrest when county authorities were notified that a man who was drinking in a roadhouse on the Bankhead highway had declared that he was "hot in East Texas."

Before officers could reach the roadhouse the escaped convict left, but the license numbers of the automobile he was driving were broadcast over police radio.

Stevens, who gave his address as Grapevine, denied that he was an escaped convict when he was taken to the city jail. He admitted his identity in a few minutes after officers convinced him that his criminal record was on file in the identification bureau.

In his pocket police found a newspaper clipping of the Longview jail break. Stevens was driving an automobile owned by a man registered in a downtown hotel.

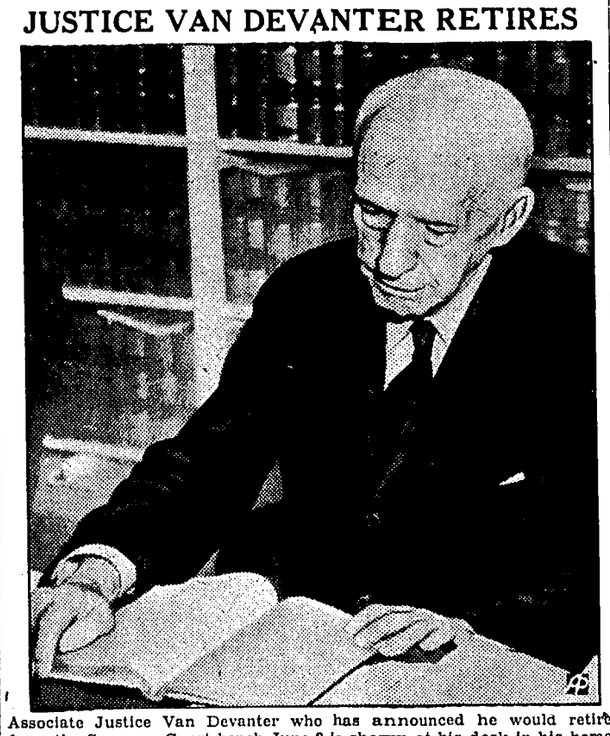

Four Made Escape.

The three who escaped jail with Stevens were Norwood McCall, convicted of burglary and later declared insane; Thomas Lewis, under sentences and indictments in three counties for forgeries, and Goldie Hariston, who was charged with the $2,000 robbery of a drug concern. McCall was captured in east Texas two days ago.

The escape was effected when night jailer Charles Davis went to the cell block housing the four

BILBAO'S DEFENDERS TEMPORARILY BLOCK INSURGENT ADVANCE

BRITISH GIVE NOTICE NAVY CANNOT PROTECT SHIPPING IN HARBOR

HENDAYE, Franco - Spanish Frontier, May 20.—(AP)—Insurgent air raiders sent the Basque population into panicky search for refuge over the whole Bilbao front today, while Basques, reinforced by Santander troops, fought to recapture Mount Gondramendi from the insurgent armies.

The mountain, northwest of Bilboa and about ten miles from the capital, was taken by insurgents yesterday.

Bilbao commanders declared one of Gen. Emilio Mola's columns ha. stalled against the reformed defense line in its thrust from fallen, half-mined Amorebieta, about eight miles east by southeast from the tottering Baskue capital.

An insurgent communique said Mola's forces captured Mount Gondramendi and six villages in an advance on a six-mile front northwest of Amoreibeta.

The commander reported the insurgents had reached within 1,000 feet of an important Basque communications center in that sector but did not locate it.

This advance line was about five miles from Galdacano, a key point in the city's "little maginot line" of steel and concrete fortifications and trenches forming a protective semi-circle against the push of the insurgent legions.

MOVEMENT STARTED POSTPONE ACTION ON NEW FARM PROGRAM

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS WOULD LET MATTERS GO OVER UNTIL NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—A movement to postpone action until next year on the agricultural adjustment program drafted by farm organizations developed today among congressional leaders.

They pointed out that a delay would aid the economy campaign and would give farmers time to study the legislation, which combines authorization for production control, soil conservation, limited crop insurance and an "evernormal" granary.

The cost might be between $200,000,000 and $300,000,000 greater than the present soil conservation program, said American farm bureau officials.

Although a final decision lay with President Roosevelt, Secretary Wallace said yesterday he hoped a broad federal program along the lines of that bill would be enacted at this session.

"I think the farmers, generally speaking, have drawn up a very fine bill," he said.

Wallace expressed belief it was too early to consider whether some features would be held constitutional. Several members of the senate agriculture committee contended the supreme court's invalidation of the old AAA stood in the way of production control and price guarantees.

The objective of the groups supporting the bill is a return of the "good old days" of American agriculture—the pre-war years of 1909-14.

In those years, the sponsors

Bankers Are Told Weak Institutions Been Eliminated

SAN ANTONIO, May 20.—(AP)—Banks which survived the recent depression have proved their strength and able management and have won back the trust and good opinion of the public, Tom K. Smith, president of the American Bankers association, said today.

The depression, Smith said, wiped out most of the weak banks.

The majority of the nation's bankers recognized the necessity of federal supervision of banking, he said, and appreciated the aid that had been given to them through this control.

Smith declared that while recent investiagtions had shown that commercial loans no longer were the backbone of the banking system, an increase in such business might result from the recently enacted federal tax on undistributed earnings.

THREE SURVIVING QUADRUPLETS GET FIRST FOOD TODAY

ONE OF QUARTET DIED WEDNESDAY; YOUNG SON ALONE WITH MOTHER

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 20.—(AP)—Three surviving babies of quadruplets born yesterday to a 39-year-old wife of a tenant farmer may get their first food today—mother's milk through a medicine dropper.

Two boys and two girls were born to Mrs. William Mullins in the Mullins' two-room farm home 20 miles northwest of here. She was alone with a son, 16—the father was hurrying to call a doctor. One of the girls died a short time later. The other three were brought here.

The three were placed in separate incubators where the temperatures are kept between 90 and 95 degrees.

Th baby who died weighed about one and one half pounds,

Eight District WPA Offices Are Ordered Closed

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—H. P. Drought, Texas Works Progress Administrator, today announced reduction of the number of W. P. A. district offices in the state from 20 to 12.

Offices at Tyler, Beaumont, Palestine, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Brownwood, Uvalde and Big Spring were abolished.

A saving of approximately $30,000 per month will be effected in administrative expense, he stated, and 187 employes will be released.

"It is with regret," he said, "that we face the necessity of releasing a substantial number of administrative officers who have rendered efficent and faithful service since the inception of this organization in July, 1935. All of the district directors who accepted appointments at the beginning of the program have remained to the present time. I cannot express too heartily my appreciation for the service which they have rendered at a time when the nation gravely needed such endeavors."

CLOSEST ADVISERS OF PRESIDENT URGE ORIGINAL BILL NO LONGER NEEDED

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 20—(AP)—President Roosevelt's closest senate advisors were urging him today to withdraw his court reorganization bill or restrict it to two additional justices.

They argued that the original bill no longer is needed, because the court is construing the constitution more broadly and because Justice Van Devanter's retirement is aproaching.

Mr. Roosevelt still gave no public indication that he would yield.

Many senators predicated he would stand firm until the supreme court decides the constitutionality of the social security law.

There were indications, however, of private negotiations for a compromise.

The president himself called Senator Nye (R-ND) to the White House yesterday for a conference, which Nye would not discuss afterwards.

Word was passed around in the senate that the president discussed with Nye a compromise on two, instead of six, new supreme court justice. Nye would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Senator Frazier (R-ND) also was understood to have received a White House invitation.

Working For Compromise

Court bill opponents said the administration was now working for the two justice compromise instead of the proposal supported in the judiciary committee with the approval of Senator Robinson, democratic leader, for appointment of one justice a year as long as any incumbents were over 75.

Lindbergh Made Now Famed Flight Ten Years Ago

WEALD, England, May 20.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh studiously avoided any of the fuss of celebration today on the tenth anniversary of his now historic solo flight from New York to Paris.

He pottered about the garden of his country home, Long Barn, in the manner of a man who has never achieved fame and never wants to.

"I did it. Why should I celebrate it?" Lindbergh was quoted by a friend as having answered when questioned about his plans for the anniversary of the flight he made a decade ago.

A steady stream of congratulatory telegrams poured in on the flying colonel but there were no telephone calls.

Lindbergh has ordered the telephone disconnected so that even well wishers will have no chance to disturb the peace and privacy which he fled from the United States to England to seek in December, 1935.

Lindbergh's only plan for the day was to spend it quietly—just as he spends most of his other days—with Mrs. Lindbergh and their baby son, Jon.

HOUSE ADVANCED RURAL SCHOOL AID BILL AHEAD TODAY

TWELVE MILLION DOLLAR MEASURE IS LAST OF THE MAJOR MONEY BILLS

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—The house today pushed the $12,.000,000 rural school aid appropriation bill several miles farther along the road to enactment.

This was the last of the five major money bills to receive floor consideration and the lower chamber hoped to have it in conference committee within a few hours.

An amendment was adopted requiring that a school district must impose a tax of at least 50 cents on the $100 valuation for maintenance in order to be eligible for state aid. A proposed provision that tax collections must be at least 70 per cent to permit eligibility was eliminated, however.

With the scheduled end of the long biennial session only 48 hours away, conference committees on the educational and departmental appropriation measures worked until far past midnight. They said their reports probably would not be ready until the session's final day.

A special session starting Monday to consider repeal of the race-track betting law still appeared probable. Governor James V. Allrde had said repeatedly he would call such a session unless the senate voted on a repeal bill and senators on opposing sides of the issue had made no move to bring it up.

The governor meanwhile voiced the intention of cutting out a number of items in the major money bills. He said the lawmakers apparently would approve large increases in expenditures yet had not provided any additional revenue.

Allred signed a bill requiring applicants for drivers' licenses to take examinations. This was one

COTTON SPINNING INDUSTRY OPERATES SLIGHTLY LOWER

APRIL OPERATIONS LESS THAN MARCH BUT FAR AHEAD PREVIOUS APRIL

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—The census bureau announced today that the cotton spinning industry operated during April at 146.7 per cent of capacity, compared with 148.3 per cent during March this year, and 110.9 per cent during April last year.

Spinning spindles in place April 30 totaled 26,991,338, of which 24,728,466 were active at some time during the month, compared with 27,024,970 and 24,638,578 during March this year, and 28,602,580 and 23,123,536 during April last year.

Active spindle hours for April numbered 9,165,313,688, or an average of 340 hours per spindle in place, compared with 9,698,368,366 and 359 for March this year, and 7,320,181,265 and 256 for April last year.

Spinning spindles in place April 30 in cotton-growing states totaled 18,903,660, of which 17,763,054

Hughes became seriously ill after a heart attack last Sunday.

FLOOD CONTROL AND POWER DISPUTE IN HOUSE BREAKS OUT

LONG-SMOLDERING DIFFERENCES FLARED OPENLY IN DEBATE THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—A long-smouldering dispute in the house over flood control and power legislation flared openly today almost on the eve of President Roosevelt's message on national planning.

Representative Whittington (D-Miss) head of the committee which ordinarily handles flood legislation, opposed further delay and sought an agreement to assure action at this session.

Representative Rayburn (D-Tex) the majority leader, contended flood control should be linked with power development so that revenues from the power could defray the cost.

Some representatives expected the President's message to discuss both problems, but said a disagreement existed whether Whittington's committee should have jurisdiction.

Flood control advocates in the house set out to draft a separate bill on the basis of recommendations by army engineers.

It was said this would propose expenditure of $800,000,000, chiefly for a system of nearly 100 flood prevention reservoirs on the Mississippi and its tributaries.

Suicide Watch Is Kept Over Killer And Girl Friend

LONOKE, Ark., May 20.—(AP)—Alert jailers kept a "suicide watch" today over Lester Brockelhurst, 23, and Bernice Felton, 18, while court officials hastened plans to try them on a charge of slaying Victor Gates, wealthy landowner.

Sheriff Troy Carroll said he ordered the watch because the girl repeatedly had threatened to commit suicide. He said the man told him that if Bernice ended her life, he would do the same.

They were brought here under heavy guard late yesterday from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., traveling the last 25 miles from Little Rock by automobile over the same route Gates drove to his death two weeks ago.

Sheriff Carroll said Brockelhurst calmly pointed out the exact spot on the highway at which he said he fired a bullet into the back of Gates' head.

Prosecuting Attorney George Hartje, who said he would demand death for both prisoners, came here today to file formal information against them in circuit court.

MASS EXECUTION OF CONVICTED PLOTTERS CARRIED OUT MAY 9

FORTY-THREE MEN AND ONE WOMAN LINED UP BEFORE THE FIRING SQUAD

MOSCOW, May 20.—(AP)—The Soviet government was disclosed today to have carried out the greatest mass execution of spies in three years, shooting 43 men and one woman convicted of espionage and sabotage plots, allegedly "under the orders of the Japanese secret service."

The spies were lined up before firing squads at Svobodny in the Far East on May 9.

The executions were the first of their type to be carried out since Joseph Stalin, secretary-general of the cummunist party, last March called for greater vigilance to wipe out spying and sabotage, and declared "the enemy must be exterminate mercilessly."

The shooting took place shortly after the conclusion of the trial of the 44 before a military collegium of the supreme court.

A communique published in the newspaper, Pacific Star, at Knabarovsk, on the Manchoukuoan-Siberian border, 450 miles north of Vladivostok, said:

"A military collegium of the supreme court of the U. S. S. R. has examined the case of a group of Trotskyists espionage diversionists which acted under the leadership and according to the orders of the Japanese secret service in organizing railroad wrecks in the Far Eeast."

The communique added that the 43 men and one woman had been condemned to death and "the sentence has been carried out."

Thousands of other oppositionists to the Soviet Russian government policies are known to be under arrest.

The Far Eastern executions came upon the heels of repeated dairy warnings in the entire Soviet press to citizens against what was termed the espionage tactics of Japan and ermany.

Dallas Seaman Says Beaten and Robbed

NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—(AP)—James C. Walker, 29, of Dallas, Tex., a member of the crew of the steamship Joice, reported to police he was abducted and beaten last night by a group of about 30 men.

He said the men seized him as he alighted from a taxicab en route to his ship and took him to the headquarters of the Seamen's union where he said he was detained for an hour and beaten.

Walker said his seamen's papers were taken from him and that after he was released he took a taxicab and went to Charity hospital.

STEEL CORPORATION EMPLOYES VOTED ON BARGAINING BODY

SOME STRIKES ARE SETTLED WHILE OTHERS ARE APPARENTLY SPREADING

By The Associated Press.

Orderly balloting marked the largest industrial selection task ever supervised by the National Labor Board which claimed widespread attention in labor circles today.

More than 9,000 workers were estimated to have voted by noon at Pittsburgh and Aliquippa, La., in the referendum which will determine whether John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization unions will represent the men in collective bargaining with the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation.

Special officers patrolled the election zone but encountered no serious trouble though warrants were sworn for seven employes of Republic Steel Corporation. The CIO steel workers organizing committee charged the seven had attempted to "interfere" with the balloting.

The election results were expected to be known tomorrow.

In Detroit, a strike stopped the assembly line in the Plymouth division of Chrysler Corporation, it was the first shutdown in a Chrysler unit since the company ended a protracted strike five weeks ago by signing an agreement with the United Automobile Workers of America.

UNOFFICIAL LIST OF WEDDING GUESTS ANNOUNCED BY HERMAN L. ROGERS

MONTS, France, May 20.—(AP)—Close friends of the Duke of Windsor said today that he and Wallis Warfield would be met on their honeymoon by several members of the British royal family at Biarritz.

The informant did not disclose however, what members of royalty would be present.

MONTS, France, May 20.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield are trying to find an Anglican prelate to marry them in a religious ceremony following the civil ritual of their wedding June 3, their spokesman disclosed today.

Herman L. Rogers, the spokesman, said several Anglican pastors who had been asked to officiate had declined. But from other sources it was learned that the Rev. C. H. D. Grimes, pastor of the Anglican church in Vienna, might be chosen.

Rogers said that an unofficial list of wedding guests, about which he was questioned, could be considered "reasonably correct."

It included:

Lord and Lady Selby, Sir Walter T. Monckton, attorney general for the Duchy of Cornwall and Windsor's legal advisor, Lady Monckton, Baron Brownlow, a companion of Edward's self-imposed exile, Lady Brownlow, Major Metcalfe, Lady Metcalfe, Captain Edward Hedley Fielden, the Duke's pilot; Mrs. Fielden, Major Ulick Alexander, formerly the Duke of Kent's comptroller; Col-

FIRST CONFESSION OF YOUNG KILLERS INTRODUCED COURT

EXPECTED BOTH DEFENDANTS WILL TAKE STAND, BLAME EACH OTHER

MARY ELIZABETH PLUMMER

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 20.—(AP)—The first purported confession of Gladys MacKnight, 17, in which she was quoted as saying her red-haired sweetheart killed her mother with a hatchet when Mrs. Helen MacKnight caught them "kissing" in her home, was introduced at the murder trial of the young couple today.

This version of the slaying differed greatly from that described in later statements of both Gladys and Donald Wightman, 18, already in evidence, in which they were quoted as saying the girl backed her mother to death while Donald held her arms.

The new statement offered by the state at the insistence of counsel for the girl, quoted her as saying she and Donald were in the kitchen of the MacKnight home.

"Donald put his arms around me and kissed me," this quoted the girl as saying.

"I yelled—not very loud. Donald and I were standing close together. My mother came in. My mother came at us with a knife in her hand. Donald wrestled with my mother. Donald grabbed the hatchet and struck.

"I saw Donald strike my mother once while she lay on the floor. He struck her about five times with the hatchet."

"Donald said 'My God, look what I have done'."

This statement was said to have been made to Detective Lewis Smith of the Bayonne police.

It further quoted Gladys as saying that after she and Donald arrived at the home of her chum, Doris French, Gladys said "Donald has killed my mother."

Witnesses Recalled.

The state quickly recalled Doris and members of her family who

DUKE OF WINDSOR REPORTED AS PLANNING CAMPAIGN TO ASSIST KING GEORGE TO HOLD RIGHTS

PARIS, May 20.—(AP)—Persons close to the Duke of Windsor reported today the abdicated British monarch was determined to fight back at his critics in England.

At the same time, these sources said, Former King Edward VIII would do all in his power to bolster the Royal family's position in the government.

The Duke was represented as believing certain quarters were trying to reduce the influence of his brother and successor, King George VI.

These quarters, the duke was said to feel, were the same ones that caused him to abdicate and go into exile because of their opposition to his marriage with Mrs. Warfield.

Edward, who lost his own fight to keep the crown and marry "the woman I love," intended to do all possible to help his brother hold fast to some of his royal rights, the sources close to him said.

By what course of action Windsor planned to accomplish his dual purpose was not disclosed.

Close friends of Windsor, Victor in a dispute with the British government over the right of his bride-to-be to have the title of "Her Royal Highness," said they considered the opening gun of his fight was fired yesterday from the Chateau de Cande where he is living in voluntary exile.

A few hours after the last legal obstacles to his wedding were cleared away, Windsor's spokesman Herman L. Rogers, announced the reason no members of the royal family were coming to the wedding June 3 was that "probably the king was advised not to send anyone."

LAST OBSTACLE TO WEDDING OF EDWARD AND WALLY REMOVED

ALL REQUESTS MADE GRANTED BY FRENCH PROSECUTOR; INVITATION LIST DUE

MONTS, France, May 19.—(AP)—Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield, declared tonight that Mrs. Warfield would become "Her Royal Highness" upon her June 3 wedding.

MONTS, France, May 19.—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor made known today that he and Mrs. Wallis Warfield have signed a contract of marriage, presumably for disposition of property in the event of death or separation after their June 3 wedding.

Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for the couple, said the contract was signed yesterday under British law, but that its provisions would not be disclosed.

State' Attorney Maurice Carcassone of Tours removed the last remaining obstacles to the marriage today. As representative of the French ministry of justice, he granted the duke's wedding application, including permission to dispense with posting banns and a special authorization for a civil ceremony at the Chateau De Cande.

The papers were delivered to Mayor Charles Mercier of Monts, who immediately notified the couple.

French law requires legal publication of banns—or notice of intention to wed—15 days before the ceremony in the town hall.

Removal of marriage registers from town halls also is prohibited by French law, hence for the ceremony outside the town hall at the chateau, special permission was necessary.

The invitation list and names of the wedding witnesses were expected to be announced late today or tomorrow.

A double wedding party to get around the absence of members of the British royal family was understood to have been planned. One party would be at Cande, after the ceremony, and the other at Wasserleonburg in Austria, where the duke said he would honeymoon and where the Duke of Kent and the Princess Royal, Windsor's brother and sister, are expected to join Edward and his bride.

(A report from London said the dukes' equerry had announced there would be about 20 guests from England at the wedding, all personal friends of Edward.)

NAVARRO COUNTY 4-H CLUBS WILL ENTER CONTEST

Almost every 4-H Club, both boys and girls, in Navarro county is planning to enter the achievement contest sponsored by the Texas Power and Light Compay according to H. C. Robinson, county agent.

The prize for the competition, limited to the 59 counties served by the power company, is a three-day all-expense-paid trip to the Pan-American Exposition in Dallas next October.

The competition will be on a club basis. All entries must be submitted by June 1, and elimination contests will begin late in August with county winners to be named by Sept. 1. District eliminations will follow and the winning club or boys and girls expected to be named about October 1 according to available information.

The contest is being conducted for its second year, and Tupelo club, second place winners last year, are expected to re-enter.

Information concerning the contests will be distributed to the various clubs in the county within a few days according to the county agents.

LABOR

mained on strike at the fabrication mill of the Aluminum Company of America plant at Alcoa, Tenn. Union officials said no effort would be made to close the company's carbon and reduction shop, where 1,000 still are employed, because it would cause expense and delay.

The Bethlehem Steel corporation, another large independent, was faced with a strike of several hundred workers at Johnstown, Pa. The Committee for Industrial Organization refused to sanction the walkout for higher wages.

A truce providing for immediate negotiation of differences over wage rates resulted in restoration of electric service in 13 Michigan counties. A strike of employes of the Consumers Power company at Saginaw caused suspension of service in Bay City, Flint, Saginaw and 190 smaller communities.

Negotiators will meet with Gov. Frank Murphy who termed the strike "unnecessary" it was called by the United Automobile Workers of America.

The Federated Motion Picture Crafts said its strike would be extended to 27 independent film producers at midnight unless they granted demands for a union shop. The studio crafts strike against major concerns reached its 21st day.

American Federation of Labor leaders made preparations for a meeting at Cincinatti Monday with representatives of 106 unions. There were indications President Green would propose a unionization campaign in mass production industries to combat the C. I. O.

Scattered strikes in Indiana made approximately 9,000 workers idle. An estimated 7,000 of them were emyloyes of the Studebaker Motor Co., at South Bend. The latter dispute involved a union protest against non-union employes.

Await Federal Action.

HOUSTON, May 20.—(AP)—Union leaders of Houston's auto mechanics' 36-day strike today awaited possible federal action on their charge an employer had refused to negotiate with strikers under provisions of the Wagner act.

In Fort Worth Dr. Edwin A. Elliott, federal mediator with the National Labor Relations Board, said he was not in a position to comment on a complaint charging the Beard and Stone Electric company failed to meet and bargain with "duly elected representatives of a majority of their employes."

Beard and Stone opened their service department yesterday along with other strike-bound shops.

Mrs. Sevier Doing Well

SAN ANTONIO, May 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Clara Discoll Sevier of Corpus Christi, national democratic executive committeewoman from Texas, was reported as "doing nicely" at her suite here at a hotel this morning. Mrs. Sevier, here on business, had been ill for several days and her physician, Dr. Ferdinana Herff, said she was in need of a rest.

NAZI PROTEST

ed States, said public opinion in the United States now could be mobilied for war against Germany "within a few hours," in contrast with the "three years" it took before America entered the world war.

He blamed "skillful" British propaganda over a long period, "plus in recent years skillful communist and Jewish propaganda."

Church Leaders Back Mundelein

CHICAGO, May 20.—(AP)—Leaders of three denominations upheld George Cardinal Mundelein today in his stand against Nazi Germany attitude toward the Catholic church as the Reich made informal representations to the United States.

The Catholic prelate, addressing an Archdiocesan conference Tuesday, urged Chicago Catholics not to take "lying down" the "malicious propaganda" he said the Nazi government was spreading against the church.

In Chicago the Cardinal's stand was supported by Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Methodist Episcopal church; Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Chicago diocese of the Protestant Episcopal church, and Dr. George Fox, president of the Chicago Rabbinical Association.

Bishop Waldorf said that "knowing Cardinal Mundelein as we do here in Chicago, we do not believe that he would make such a statement as he has made without being in possession of the facts. As his fellow citizens we believe he is thoroughly justified in making these facts known."

Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Chicago diocese of the Episcopal church said he believed Cardinal Mundelein "entirely within his rights," in condemning the German government and Nazi officials.

The bishop said the Cardinal voiced the protest of all enlightened religion against "the present recrudescence of Caesarism" in nazi Germany.

"Every statement Cardinal Mundelein made was perfectly justified," declared Dr. George Fox, president of the Chicago Rabbinical association.

Informal Representations.

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—The German embassy has made informal representations to the state department over criticisms voiced by Cardinal Mundelein, at Chicago, against Chancellor Hitler and Germany's Nazi regime.

This was learned today coincident with a statement by embassy officials that Ambassador Hans H. Dieckhoff had not thus far received instructions from his government to make a formal protest.

Subsequently Dieckhoff, after a brief call on Wilbur J. Carr, assistant secretary of state, told newsmen that the representation by the embassy on its own initiative seemed to close the incident as far as his government was converned.

He indicated he expected no formal protest to be made.

DISPUTE

Walls and levies to protect numerous towns and cities would be provided. The construction would proceed at a cost of $60,000,000 to $70,000,000 a year.

Whittington said the President had submitted the report with a request that action be held up until January. This assertion strengthened the belief of some congressmen that much broader legislation was contemplated.

COURT BILL

There was strong sentiment in the senate for withdrawal of the bill entirely and substitution of a constitutional amendment to require retirement of judges at 70 or 75 years of age.

Opponents were just beginning today to write the committee's adverse report on the bill, and it apepared likely that the supreme court would rule on the social security act before debate could begin in the senate.

That might make it possible to work out a solution to the controversy before the issue reaches the floor.

Because developments of the bill all were backstage, senate discussion centered today on the possibility of Senator Robinson being appointed to succeed Justice Van Devanter.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Richland 4-H Club.

"Two Hours From the Garden to the Can," was the statement used by Miss Ruth McNabb, pertaining to the canning of fruit, to the Richland girls 4-H club Tuesday at the school-house.

You can't expect to get good fruit out of your cans if you don't put good products into them. Use clean, fresh, sound fruit and sanitary containers. Tomatoes are made into juice by running them through a sieve. Heat to 180 degrees Fahrenheit and fill cans immediately, then boil for five minutes, and cool quickly. If club directions are followed a good result will be obtained.

GOVERNOR ALLRED URGES RESTORATION OF FEE SALARY PLAN

DECLARES CHANGE FROM FEE SYSTEM WAS MISTAKE; BANKRUPTING COUNTIES

AUSTIN, May 18.—(AP)—Gov. James V. Allred denounced the salary plan of remunerating county officials, in a special message to the legislature today, and urged submission of a constitutional amendment providing for return to the fee system.

Pointing out amendments could be submitted only at a regular session, he recommended suspending all rules in order to submit one to re-adopt the fee plan, which was abandoned two years ago.

"I think the abolition of the fee system, with all its faults, was one of the biggest mistakes we have ever made," the governor said. "The cost to the state, under the salary amendment, is 70 per cent above what it was. In addition, it is absolutely bankrupting the counties.

"I voted to abolish the fee system, but I must admit error. It has not only proved a costly financial failure, but has utterly failed to produce as good a type of service as we had under the old system. After all, our forefathers were pretty wise in writing most of the constitution; and I have now come to appreciate their wisdom in providing for the fee system.

"Irrespective of whether we are in agreement on restoring the fee system, it is but fair to give the people an opportunity to vote on it."

House Unanimously Supports Governor

AUSTIN, May 18.—(AP)—The house of representatives responded quickly and unanimously today to Governor Allred's appeal for submission of a constitutional amendment authorizing a return to the fee system.

Within 20 minutes after reading of the governor's message, the body voted, 126 to 0, for submission. If the senate should take like action, the people would be permitted to vote August 23 on whether to abolish the new salary method of compensating officers.

"I voted to abolish the fee system," said the governor, "but I must admit error. It not only has proved a costly financial failure, but has utterly failed to produce as good a type of service as we had under the old system. After all, our forefathers were pretty wise in writing most of the constitution."

The amendment would not make the fee system mandatory but would permit the legislature to adopt any method it desired.

Rep. Leland M. Johnson of Waxahachie failed in an effort to obtain immediate action on a mition to broaden the house committee. Investigation of eleemosynary institutions. He said the committee needed expense money so it might check on "reported irregularities," asserting the group would like to inspect the state hospital at San Antonio among other institutions.

Demonstrates Speed.

The house demonstrated how fast it can pass major legislation when it desires to act quickly as it approved the educational appropriation bill in about an hour.

Those successfully urging limitation of debate said discussion was useless because the final bill would be prepared by conference committee. They suggested members hopeful of amending the bill file their amendments with the committee.

Passage of the educational bill left rural school aid as the only major money measure not yet considered on the floors of both houses. The lawmakers hope to act on the conference committee reports on all the appropriation bills before adjournment Saturday.

The house educational bill totaled $15,785,563, compared with an appropriation of $11,056,345 for the current biennium and the approximately $17,000,000 of the senate bill.

AUSTIN, May 18.—(AP)—House educational and rural school aid appropriations remained the only "money" bills hanging fire in the legislature today.

With the curtain due to ring down on the overtime four-month session Saturday, the house departmental appropriation joined judiciary and eleemosynary bills in conference committees.

The lower chamber completed a week's wrangling on the proposal after midnight last night, passing it 80 to 45. It totaled approximately $25,000,000 for the biennium.

The amendment-riddled bill included a $40,000 appropriation, contingent upon federal matching funds, for creation of a Nueces conservation and reclamation district affecting 23 counties southwest of San Antonio. A $19,000 item was provided for survey and important work.

The Guadalupe-Blanco river authority would receive $6,000 to complete a preliminary survey by another amendment. Others were: $150,000 to repay farmers for expenditures in pink boll worm eradication work; $400,000 for rural health service and $50,000 a year for syphilis control, the latter funds to be administered by the health department.

With a special session to repeal horse race betting looming immediately after adjournment, the house fell but two votes short of adopting a resolution extending the session another week.

The governor said he would call an extraordinary session unless the senate voted directly on the pari-mutuel wagering repeal issue.

Lineman Injured While Working Near Corsicana Thursday

Robert Lee York, 45, Waxahachie, working with a Texas Power and Light company construction crew near Corsicana, received an injured right foot shortly after noon Thursday and was taken to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic for first aid treatment. At press hour the extent of his injuries had not been determined, but hospital attaches did not think his condition was serious.

of the parts of his public safety program.

The senate passed with amendments a house bill creating a workmen's compensation system for state highway department employes.

Several Special Sessions Hinted

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—Legislators, preparing to adjourn the overtime general session Saturday, faced prospects today of spending additional months in Austin.

Governor James V. Allred in a talk to truck men yesterday threw out hints there might be several special sessions.

He reiterated an intention to reconvene the lawmakers immediately after adjournment unless the senate voted on a bill to repeal race betting.

Asserting experience had taught him that unless he "feeds" the legislature one subject at a time nothing was accomplished, he outlined as matters that likely will "require attention" after the first special session:

Effective highway safety legislation.

A soil conservation act to assure federal participation.

Enabling legislation for constitutional amendments.

Public utility regulation.

Merchant Trucks Unregulated

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—Merchants transporting their own goods in their own trucks traveled the highways today free from permit regulations of contract carriers.

They were assured yesterday by the railroad commission that that body had never construed the motor carried act to include them if they did not make a charge for hauling.

Merchants and manufacturers had sought relief from a supreme court ruling holding them subject to the same rules as contract carriers.

"Any man is free to ship his own goods in his own vehicle to any point in Texas," commented C. V. Terrell, chairman, when a member of the delegation advanced hypothetical questions as to what constituted "shipping charges."

Race Bill As Rider.

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred scouted reports today that a rider repealing the horse race betting bill might be attached to the General departmental appropriation bill.

"I think that ought not to be done and I doubt if members of the conference committee drafting the appropriation bill have even considered it," he commented.

Race wagering first was legalized in Texas several years ago by a rider tacked on to an appropriation bill. An out-right repeal bill has passed the house and been pending in the senate for weeks.

Appropriations Face Cut.

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—Appropriation for the next biennium totaling several million dollars more than those for the current two years face some blue-penciling by Governor James V. Allred.

The governor said today that because the legislature had provided no new revenue as he had recommended but had boosted the appropriations considerably he expected to take advantage of the law which authorizes him to veto individual items in the general bills.

"I am going to cut out every appropriation I can because the legislature has not passed any revenue measures," he said. "I want the government to run on a progressive scale but it can't be done unless the money is provided."

Emergency appropriations to care for needs of the current biennium not provided for in the general bills already total more than $3,500,000, he said.

Senate Approves Bill.

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—The senate today approved with amendments a house bill creating a workmen's compensation system for state highway department employees. Administration was was placed with the industrial accident board.

Signs Drivers Examination Bill.

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—The bill requiring examinations for drivers of motor vehicles has been signed by Governor James V. Allred. The governor also has signed a measure authorizing the public safety commission to appoint heads of divisions in the department.

OPERETTA STAGED BY IOOF HOME FINE ARTS DEPARTMENT

An operetta "Look Who's Here" was presented by the Fine Arts department of the I. O. O. F. Home Wednesday night. The high standard of excellence set by previous presentations of this type of entertainment by the students of the Home was fully maintained by the performers Wednesday night.

The operetta presented excellent opportunities for the display of the varied talent in the institution. The histrionic and musical ability of the students was thoroughly demonstrated by the manner in which they handled the difficult parts assigned them. Their performance would have done credit to much more seasoned performers. The spontaneous applause that greeted the players thoroughly demonstrated that the audience was well pleased.

It would be rather difficult to select an outstanding performer from a cast so well balanced and an operetta so well presented.

The dances, the musical numbers, the vocal solos, duets, quartettes, chorus and ensemble numbers showed thorough preparation as well as natural ability.

Teachers in the Fine Arts department who had charge of the presentation of the operetta were Miss Emily Roberts, Mrs. Harriett Van Belzer and Miss Ola Dayton.

Navarro Winner Over Farmer In Close Sunday Game

Navarro took a close 8-7 decision from Farmer Sunday. Near the close of the game Sunday evening, the Farmer boys came close to passing the Navarro boys. The Farmers gained 3 runs in the eighth and 2 in the ninth, while Navarro only gained 1 in the ninth. Phinney, star pitcher of the game, fanned 5 men, and out of 5 trips to bat got a double and a triple.

Next Sunday, May 23, Farmer will play Bazette. Bazette is a rather strong team and we are expecting a good game. The following Sunday, May 30, the Farmers play Pickett, which is expected to be thrilling to the spectators during every minute of the game.

Former Corsicanan Dies In Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, May 20.—(AP)—A. Maclin Wilder, 58, insurance agent and business man in Shreveport for many years, died Wednesday following several months' illness. He is survived by his widow, formerly Miss Josephine Utz and a sister, Mrs. George Petty of Mexia, Texas, where he was born.

Mack Wilder was a popular resident of Corsicana around the turn of the century and came here from Mexia. He was well known here for his gentlemanly and courteous manner and had hosts of friends among the older residents of this city who will learn of his passing with deep regret.

On the northeastern quadrant of Mola's semi-circular line, the green slopes of the Jata and Sollube mountains withered under artillery and mortar bombardment while insurgent troops snaked through the trees and underbrush to the summit of Gondramendi hill to weld two segments of their forces.

Within the concentric semi-circles of besiegers, the semi-autonomous Basque government which has seen Mola's forces pushing for nearly two months through the mountainous Basque country until it almost reached Bilbao, lashed at what it termed "the Germans' criminal action" in the drive.

(The government has charged that large numbers of Italians and Germans are in the insurgent ranks.)

An indication of the growing crisis in Bilbao, where more than 300,000 persons awaited the test of the capital's last defenses, was seen in a notification by the British government to British ships in the harbor to leave as soon as possible, stating otherwise British naval protection could not be given.

Spain Asks League Action.

GENEVA, May 20.—(AP)—The Spanish Valencia government appealed today for a new examination of the civil war situation by the League of Nations council under Article 11 of the league covenant.

The note said that developments in foreign intervention had reached such proportions that a council inquiry was justified.

Article 11 declares that "any war or threat of war" is a "matter of concern" to the whole league "and the league shall take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the pace of nations."

"In case any such emergency should arise the secretary general shall on the request of any member of the league forthwith summon a meeting of the council," the article adds.

Gladys heard with a half-smile testimony of the Bayonne police chief she told him it was "none of your damn business" who killed her mother.

Gladys and Donald were calm as the state's testimony drew near a close with indications the prosecution would rest during the day.

Counsel for the young defendants, who were expected to try to blame each other for the crime, said they would testify in their own defense.

Separate statements from the two quoting them as confessing that she wielded the hatchet while he held her mother were already in evidence.

State Case Near End.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 20.—(AP)—The State's case against 17-year old Gladys MacKnight and her red-haired former sweetheart drew to a close today with more police testimony that they "confessed" killing her mother with a hatchet.

The moment approached when she and Donald Wightman, 18, the boy with whom she drank beer and played tennis, were expected to take the stand and try to pin on each other the blame for Mrs. Helen MacKnight's death last July 31. Separate counsel for the young defendants declined to disclose defense plans.

Separate alleged confessions that the boy held Mrs. MacKnight, Bayonne clubwoman, while her daughter struck already were in evidence.

SOIL EROSION AND WATER CONSERVATION CONFERENCE OPENS

AMARILLO, May 20.—(AP)—Approximately 500 delegates from portions of five states convened here today in an effort to coordinate the dual program of saving soil from erosion and conserving "all the water where it falls."

Farmers, business and professional men and county agricultural agents from Texas, New Mexico, Coloorado, Kansas and Oklahoma registered for the meeting.

Speakers on the day's program are Grover Hill, senior agricultural economist in charge of the federal range program for this section; L. H. Hauter of the resettlement administration, H. H. Finnell of the soil conservation service and Parker Hanna of the college extension service.

John McCarty, associate publisher of the Amarillo Globe-N[illegible] and president of the Panhandle Water Conservation association, which was granted an authority by recent state legislation, presided at the opening of the meeting.

Kerens Y. W. A. Was Entertained Tuesday By the Misses Cloud

KERENS, May 20.—(Spl.)—Misses Billie and Jimmie Cloud were hostess to the members of the Y. W. A. Tuesday evening when an interesting travelogue program was given.

Bernice Sherrill, the leader introduced Misses Cecil Ross, Frances Hemphill, Virginia Crowley and Jimmie Cloud who gave accounts of the mission work in Russia, Yugoslavia, Rumania and Hungaria.

Scripture readings by Billie Cloud, Bernice Sherrill and Jewel Malone, a piano solo by Miss Gladys Harris and songs in keeping with the subject helped make the program one of the best of the year.

Philippine Mining Town Burned With Number Dead

MANILLA, May 20.—(AP)—Fire raged uncontrolled in the town of Paracle today, causing two known deaths, injuring an undetermined number of persons, destroying 200 buildings and making 2,000 homeless.

The flames centered in the hotel section of the mining town, 150 miles east of Manila in Camarines Norte province.

Reports to the Daily Bulletin indicated first estimates of loss were exaggerated. Later figures of damage ranged from $250,000 to $350,000.

It was the second disastrous fire in the Philippines within 24 hours. Yesterday a $250,000 fire destroyed the business district of Maasin on Leyte island, south of Manila. Many people were left homeless but no casualties were reported.

The Paracale fire was described by La Vanguardia's correspondent as the "worst disaster in this section of the Philippines, with horrible sights as frantic people searched for their loved ones." He reported "the whole town in flames."

Texas Bankers Urged to Invest Home Industries

SAN ANTONIO, May 19.—(AP)—An appeal to bankers to invest their surplus capital in new Texas industries was made by Carl B. Fritsche, managing director of the Farm Chemurgic Council of Dearborn, Mich., in a talk here today before the annual convention of the Texas Bankers Association.

Texas, Fritsche declared, has more potential wealth in the form of untapped resources than did India when it enriched those who financed the East India Company.

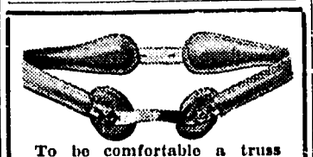

The Farm Chemurgic Council, an organization coordinating agriculture, industry and science and devoted to chemical research to increase the output and value of agriculture, now is directing an organization movement in the south, and especially in Texas, according to Fritsche.

CORSICANA, TEX., MAY 21, 1937

NOT MANY ALIENS

The number of aliens in this country is decreasing rapidly. Immigration authorities say an alien may be a comparatively scarce individual here in another ten years. The quota system has cut down the number of newcomers from millions to thousands.

In the last seven years 498,238 immigrants have entered. In the ten years before that there were more than 4,000,000. In the last fiscal year scarcely one-fourth as many immigrants entered as the authorized quotas would have permitted.

Other factors have reduced the alien population already here. More aliens have acquired citizenship lately as trouble abroad has emphasized the advantages of being an American. Many have been deported and others have gone back voluntarily to their home lands.

The Immigration Bureau urges passage of the Dies bill now before Congress, providing for the deportation of some aliens not reached by present laws and granting limited discretion in technical deportation cases where unjust hardship would befall families and dependents who are American citizens.

It is clear that the changing alien situation will eliminate some problems and create others. Hereafter there will be less justification for the complaint that aliens hold jobs citizens need. With the inevitable slowing down of population growth, however, some industries and businesses may be temporarily slowed. But there should be other gains, with fewer of us hereafter ill-nourished, ill-clad and poorly educated.

PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS

There has arisen an acute need of trained social workers who "can listen sympathetically to family troubles and give intelligent advice," says Dr. John Dollar, sociologist at Yale. This is because old-fashioned neighbors have largely disappeared in modern city life. Giving advice, he maintains, is the most important thing a social worker does today. That is, if the social worker is wise.

Here is suggested one of the most lamentable losses of what we sometimes call "social progress." What is the use of city opportunities, city sophistication, if people no longer have good neighbors to whom they can take their joys and troubles, and from whom they can expect honest and helpful advice.

Surely one of the biggest losses of modern life is the loss of "old-fashioned neighbors." Happy is the family that still lives in a settled neighborhood of real neighbors.

SCATTERED EGGS

Judge Leonard J. Nickerson of Cornwall, Conn., certainly believed in not putting all his eggs in one basket. Or all his nest-eggs in one bank. The inventory of his estate shows that his $36,612.50 cash was deposited in 51 different Connecticut banks.

Such extreme caution could hardly have been necessary with the present federal bank deposit insurance. So bulwarked, eight banks would have sufficed. But the judge probably found extra satisfaction and security in just looking at those 51 banks savings books. There's something to be said for the psychological influence of such a library.

JUST FOLKS

(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)

COURTSHIPS END.

I'll tell you a tale of a wee little elf
Who lives in a tulip out there by himself,
And he fell in love with my Janet when she
Was just after two and not quite up to three.

One day as I worked in the garden about
When Janet had measles and couldn't come out,
This elf of the tulip approached me and said:
"Your daughter I ask your permission to wed.

"I love her!" "Hmm-hmm," I replied, "maybe so
But my Janet is still much too young for a beau.
She's still just a baby. She hasn't turned three,
Wait twenty years longer, and then we shall see."

This happened in springtime, just ten years ago.
But that elf tired of waiting for Janet to grow.
In a fit of despair he deserted the spot
And now none of us knows if he's living or not.

NO GUNS FOR OUTSIDERS.

A Chilean military mission, in Europe seeking war materials to replace obsolete equipment, has met with little success. The munitions-producing nations are working as hard as possible to keep themselves properly equipped. They can't spare anything for Chile and take little interest in that country's problem.

Unless the Chileans come back to this hemisphere for their supplies they may not get any at all.

Here is one kind of arms limitation. But it is rather one-sided, since it permits arms to those who already have them and shuts out only those who don't have them but think they ought to.

PRIVATE FORTS

Bargain-hunters with a taste for outdoor life and private magnificence may be interested in a recent announcement from Washington. There are forts for sale and islands for sale, and also forts built on islands. An example of the latter is Fort Ward on Bainbridge Island, near Seattle, in Puget Sound. Several islands intended for forts, but not needed are on the market in various places.

This tendency to unload superfluous federal real estate, once started, might go far. Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staff, says many of the old army posts could be abandoned with profit to the government, so anyone desiring an old army post may as well apply to the War Department. It would take an act of Congress to give a deed, but might be managed.

The point of such abandonment is, in general, that the Indians against whom such posts were meant to protect the whites are no longer belligerent. In some cases there are no longer any redskins within a day's drive. Some of them would make wonderful estates for monied families with a taste for such things.

SEAWEED FOR FOOD.

When we get all our vitamin lessons learned and have the vitamin habit well enough established to be forgotten safely, perhaps we'll turn our attention to the essential minerals. One of the best places to get them, says the head of a fishing concern, is to eat seaweed as a salad or a cooked vegetable. Seaweed, he claims, contains most of the minerals we need. It is palatable and digestible, and easily prepared.

The Japanese have eaten seaweed for many years. They cook it until soft, serve it with a soya sauce, and believe it aids their digestion.

We don't know much about seaweed, but if it is edible and wholesome we can be pretty sure we'll eat it some day and perhaps even make a fad of it in our diet. This is an age of experimentation in food ever more than in other things.

Fashions in words change, too. What they used to call "eugenics" is now called "heir-conditioning."

They talk of "creditor nations" and "debtor nations," but the latter class includes 'em all.

He Can't Follow Both Much Longer!

DIRIGIBLES WANTED

The disaster to the Zeppelin Hindenburg seems even more shocking because we had come to believe that German ships were proof against the perils which had wrecked so many other airships. The long record of the Graf Zeppelin in its round-the-world and North Pole flights and its many scheduled trips between Europe and South America has been impressive and has helped to maintain faith in this type of transportation when other ships crashed. Even the Hindenburg, through the whole year, made a record which strengthened this view. Now, popular approval of the giant lighter-than-air craft is severely shaken There is the usual talk of abandoning further construction of them.

There are reasons for believing that they will not be abandoned. Everyone who has traveled on the scheduled trips of either the Graf Zeppelin or the Hindenburg praises the stability, the quiet, the comfort, the beauty, the thrill of such a voyage. With such virtues, the dirigibles seem to demand further trial. Their weakness must be overcome, the special perils that confront them mastered, especially the fire peril.

DOG'S RIGHT OF WAY.

A dog's life was saved the other day. The animal didn't know he was in any danger. Somehow or other he had started trotting across a railroad trestle. Then the going proved difficult and the dog had to pick his way carefully over the spaced ties.

A railroad switch engine was approaching the trestle. The engineer saw the dog and saw that the animal would either be thrown off or crushed by the engine. Neither possibility appealed to the engineer. So he backed off the trestle and waited until the animal reached safety and bounded away.

Perhaps that dog's life wasn't important and perhaps the motorists who were delayed a few moments at a near-by crossing were out on important business. But nobody can prove it. And one thing is sure, the engineer did his own soul some good by his merciful act.

We don't quite follow the labor leader who told his men to stand up to their bosses by sitting down.

We can't help thinking, now and then, how much simpler things are down in Little America.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR EPWORTH LEAGUE UNION TUESDAY EVE

Miss Dorothy Burkhart was elected president; Miss Mary Francis Clowe was elected chairman of publicity; Mrs. Rufus Elliott was elected sponsor, all of First Methodist church, Corsicana; Johnnie Slate of North Corsicana was elected first vice president; James McMullen of Chatfield was elected second vice president, and Glenna Watson of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church, Corsicana, was elected secretary and treasurer of the Northern Zone, Epworth League Union of the Corsicana district at the monthly meeting held in Chatfield Tuesday night.

Milton Campbell of the Eleventh Avenue Methodist church, Corsicana, the retiring president, was given a rising vote of thanks for his administration. The next meeting will be held at the North Corsicana Methodist church and Chatfield will give the program.

The program Tuesday night was given by Richland. Rev. Roy Johnson led the singing, the theme was "The Life of Christ." Van Gordon Elkins was the leader; a talk was given by Marilyn Jones, a reading by Mary Sue Allen. Scripture by Eris Jean Elkins and a reading by Blanche McCrary. This was closed with the League benediction.

Following the program and business session the young people gathered on the lawn of the church for games under direction of Rev. W. M. Justice, pastor of the Chatfield church, and frozen creams were served.

Dr. G. R. Gray, presiding elder, installed the new officers. The new president will call a council meeting soon of the new officers.

GROUPS INTERESTED IN SAVING OF SOIL GUESTS LOCAL UNIT

Groups of farmers, landlords, and members of farm clubs and other organizations were guests of the Corsicana Soil Conservation Service unit Wednesday afternoon for a tour of various phases of erosion control and soil saving practices. Similar visits are planned for Thursday.

Almost every type of erosion control and treatment had been installed during the past two years by the local forces as demonstration projects, and the various steps will be explained by competent instructors.

The visiting period for the camp has been announced as May 19 to May 29, and anyone interested is asked to contact the soil conservation officials at the CCC camp near Lake Halbert if they are unable to join one of the inspection groups of Wednesday or Thursday. On these two days the meeting place is near the Corsicana Public Library, and tours were scheduled to start at 9 a. m. and 2 p. m.

Woman Injured As Auto Hits Pole At Turn In Street

Mrs. Louise Clements was taken to the P. and S. Hospital Tuesday morning in a Sutherland-McCammon ambulance and given first aid treatment for minor injuries received when the car in which she was riding was reported to have struck a telephone pole near Thirteenth avenue and Sixteenth street, after the wheel of the auto became caught in the street car tracks.

Hospital attaches reported she did not suffer any broken bones, and her injuries were confined to cuts and bruises. She was taken home a few minutes later. Mrs. Clements is the daughter of J. M. Pugh.

JUNIOR HIGH COACH RESIGNS AND WILL BE WITH M'ALLEN

L. C. Seay, Juinor High school football coach since 1933, has resigned his position here and accepted another as assistant coach at McAllen high school for the 1937-38 year. He will be assistant to Maco Stewart a former Corsicana Tiger and S. M. U., Mustang sensation.

In addition to his coaching duties, Seay will teach science and physical education.

The school did not have a spring football camp, but will begin its fall training in August, and Mr. and Mrs. Seay hope to be settled in McAllen by that time.

Seay received his B. S. degree from North Texas State Teachers' College, Denton, and his M. A. degree from the University of Missouri.

Since directing the destinies of the Junior High school Panthers, Seay has had unusual success. His teams have won more than half of their exhibition games as well as those in the Central Texas Junior High school league.

TEXANS ASKED TO WATCH FOR YELLOW BALLOON; NAB IT

LITTLE RUBBER BAGS BEING USED IN WORK AGAINST FLEA HOPPER

COLLEGE STATION, May 20.—(Spl.)—Mr. Citizen, young or old, if you see a yellow balloon floating along these days, let it settle and then nab it.

It's your chance to play scientist and co-operate with Uncle Sam and Old Man Texas in a unique flank attack on the cotton flea hopper and some of his injurious insect pals.

It's your balloon, you'll find a numbered tag attached that scientists at Texas A. and M. College are anxious to get. All you have to do is to fill out the blanks giving your name and address and where you found the balloon and then drop the tag in the mail. You don't even have to pay postage, and in return you'll get not only a scientific "thank you" but also information regarding the experiment.

Scienists of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quuarantine, United States Department of Agriculture, already know the flea hoppers and their cohorts are carried considerable distances by the winds, but they want to know more about these cross country hops.

The flea hoppers and their cronies are now breaking winter quarters in croton weeds and goat weeds and are heading for the cotton patch. The foxy scientists have invaded eighteen Texas counties where these weeds grow in abundance and are releasing their balloons to drift along like hoppers.

Some 4,000 balloons, all told, will be released before June 1 in Madison, Brazos, Milam, Robertson, Burleson, Lee, Bastrop, Caldwell Guadalupe, Gonzales, Austin, Colorado, Lavaca, DeWitt, Goliad, Calhoun and Nueces counties and the Islands in the Gulf off Calhoun county.

There's just one major rule to this balloon-chasing game. Don't hit your man (balloon) until he's down on the ground or at least nearly there.

Twin Calves Born To Young Heifer Owned in Corsicana

David Blood, a former Daily Sun newsboy, reported late yesterday that a young heifer, owned by his father, gave birth Wednesday morning to twin calves. Both of the calves were reported to be perfectly normal in every respect and apparently in good health today.

Multiple births among cattle are not frequent, but several, including a set of triplets, have been reported in Navarro county in recent years.

Powell Boy Injured When Team Ran Away

Jack Barner, about 14, of the Powell community, received a dislocated left ankle and a broken left leg just above the ankle Wednesday afternoon and was brought to Corsicana where the injuries were treated by a local physician. The boy was thrown from a cultivator when the team became frightened and ran away.

No other injuries were received.

THOMAS DESCRIBES TEXAS COTTON PEST SITUATION TO DATE

By F. L. THOMAS
Chief, Division of Entomology

COLLEGE STATION, May 20.—(Spe.)—Application of sulphur dust to control flea hoppers already has been started in Willacy, Nueces, and San Patricio counties. However, the number of migrating flea hoppers caught on screen traps during the past week dropped off in both South and Central Texas.

In Central Texas, most cotton fields possess evidence of thrips damage characterized by irregular shaped leaves that appear as though torn or wind-whipped. In some fields 100 percent of the plants are infested by these very small insects, which in some cases kill the terminal buds and greatly retard the development of the plants. The injury is worse in dry weather. Care should be taken to differentiate between thrips and flea hopper injury, as no economical control for thrips on cotton is known.

Boll weevils are continuing to emerge from winter quarters, and their numbers are increasing in the cotton fields. As many as 455 per acre have been found in one field of Dimmit county, according to report from the Winter Garden Substation.

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Midway Club

The Midway Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. B. Burleson, May 18. There was no special business to discuss, so we went over our literature which we received after our last meeting.

We find it very important that we should care for our teeth in order to safeguard our health. The teeth should be brushed regularly and especially at night, with some good dentifice.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. W. L. Beauchamp, June 1. with Miss McNabb to meet with us.

After our meeting adjourned refreshments were served to several members. Reporter.

Farm Hands Are Now Available

Navarro county farmers in need of farm hands are requested to get in touch with the Texas State Employment Service, W. S. Basham in charge of the local office announced Thursday.

It was pointed out by Mr. Basham that farm hands could be furnished in any number on short notice and that the facilities of his office were available for all desiring service of this nature.

J. E. WOODS OF TEMPLE AND TEAGUE BANKERS PRESIDENT

SAN ANTONIO, May 20.—(AP)—J. E. Woods of Temple and Teague was elected President and Guy Draper of McGregor, treasurer of the Texas Bankers association at the closing session of the group here today.

Fort Worth was selected as the site for the next convention.

The association voted support for an amendment to the state constitution to eliminate the requirement of double liability for stockholders in state banks.

The bankers also voted opposition to any lessening of restrictions on import cattle and sheep into the United States, and opposition to the legislation for establishment of branch banks.

The opinion that banking in Texas never was in a more sound condition than today was expressed by Sam R. Greer of Tyler, who reported on work of the legislative committee.

Greer said banking in this state needed to do two things, namely, lower rates of interest on preferred loans and security of prime collateral, and increase the volume of business.

NEW LONDON SCHOOL DISASTER REFERRED TO AT LABOR MEET

TYLER, May 20.—(AP)—The State Federation of Labor today declared that the New London school disaster was "a terrible illustration of the dangers of plumbing and gas fitting when done by other than properly qualified mechanics," and passed a resolution urging a state code to regulate plumbing.

The resolution, passed at the organization's annual convention, set forth that there is not now any such law, except for certain city ordinances.

The federation passed another resolution opposing the Hill-Sheppard bill, asserting that it "would place this nation at the mercy of a military dictatorship as drastic as any experienced by a foreign country," providing not only for the drafting of 4,000,000 young men for military service, but for the conscription of all labor.

The convention will elect officers and select its 1938 convention city at the afternoon session.

M'CRAW IS SEEKING QUICK SETTLEMENT OF GREEN ESTATE

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—Wiliam McCraw, Texas attorney general arranged a conference with Chief Justice Hughes for this afternoon to discuss the possible appointment of a special master to hear testimony in the interstate fight over taxing the $57,000,000 estate of the late Col E. H. R. Green.

Texas, New York, Florida and Massachusetts claims that the late railroad magnate lived within their taxable jurisdictions.

McCraw expressed hope, before the conference, that a special master could help untangle the conflicting claims and eliminate a long drawn out court battle.

Josephus Daniels En Route Home On Vacation Trip

MEXICO CITY, May 20.—(AP)—Ambassador Josephus Daniels of the United States was en route home today on a vacation trip.

The envoy, who celebrated his 75th birthday yesterday, left for Dallas last night by way of Laredo. He will address the Dallas Trade convention meeting there just before the opening of the greater Texas and Pan American Exposition.

The ambassador will leave Dallas, May 21, to join Mrs. Daniels at Longview, Texas, for the rest of the trip to their home at Raleigh, N. C. Mrs. Daniels, accompanied by Josephus Daniels, Jr., editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, and his wife, will leave here tonight.

Driver Killed As Eighteen Children Escaped Injury

CLARKSTON, Wash., May 20.—(AP)—The driver was killed and 18 young student passengers miraculously escaped serious injury when a school bus left a highway and turned over several times near here today.

A. L. Fuller, about 48, Clarkston garageman and member of the town council, the driver, was killed outright.

The 18 youngsters, ranging in age from 6 to 12 years climbed to safety through broken windows in the rear part of the bus. The front end was wrecked.

Deficit In Texas General Fund Now Stands $10,220,223

AUSTIN, May 20.—(AP)—Texas' general fund deficit stood at $10,220,223 today when the state treasurer announced payment of warrants up to and including Dec. 14, 1936. Amount of the call was $923,864.

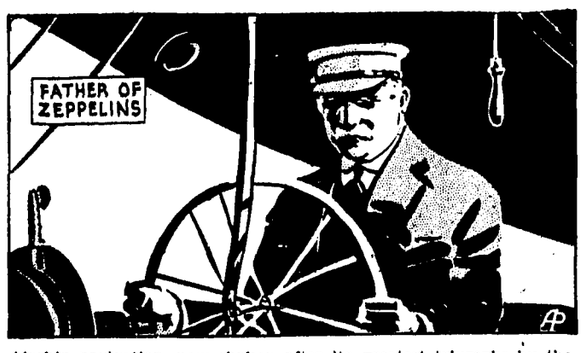

He announced also purchase for the highway department investment fund of confederate pension warrants up to and including July 1936, if not discounted, and payment of warrants up to and including July, 1935, regardless of discount. The pension fund deficit was $4,571,333.

Texas Employe Dies of Burns

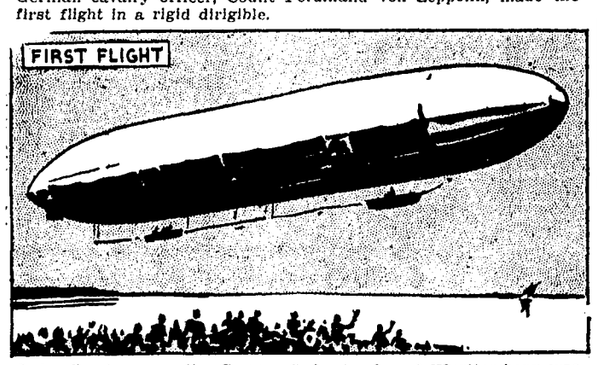

HOUSTON, May 20.—(AP)—J. D. Tullos of Humble, construction foreman at a Texas Pipe Line company tank farm, died today of burns received in an explosion which seriously injured Sam Jergens and Travis Robson.

Workmen said the accident occurred when escaping gas was ignited from acetylene torches. The men were welding a pipe in a pit.

Zeps' Stormy History Dates Back 37 Years

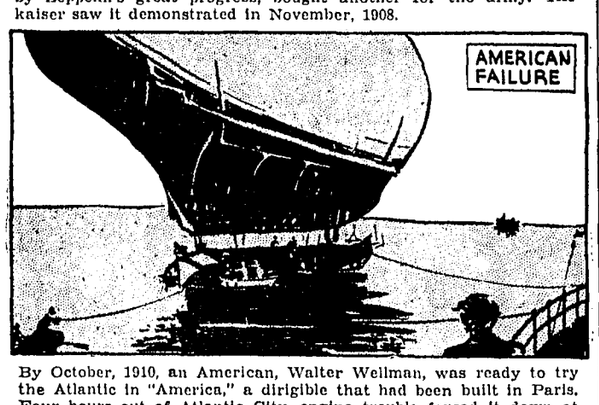

Airship navigation, now shaken after its greatest triumphs by the loss of the Hindenburg, began at the turn of the century when a German cavalry officer, Count Ferdinand von Zeppelin, made the first flight in a rigid dirigible.

Lake Constance on the German-Swiss border of Wurttemberg was thronged with sightseers on July 2, 1900, as the 62-year-old inventor took the big bag, called zeppelin after him, up 1,300 feet. He soared for 20 minutes at eight miles an hour.

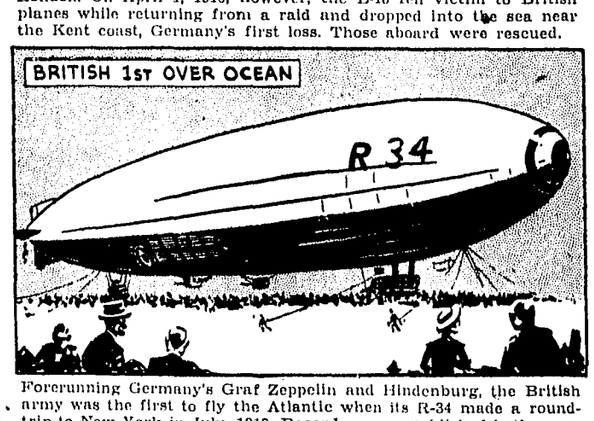

Eight years later Zeppelin's largest dirigible burned up after a gale tore it from its moorings. But the German government, impressed by Zeppelin's great progress, bought another for the army. The kaiser saw it demonstrated in November, 1908.

By October, 1910, an American, Walter Wellman, was ready to try the Atlantic in "America," a dirigible that had been built in Paris. Four hours out of Atlantic City, engine trouble forced it down at sea but the crew was saved.

The war gave Germany a new use for her zeppelins—bombarding London. On April 1, 1916, however, the L-15 fell victim to British planes while returning from a raid and dropped into the sea near the Kent coast, Germany's first loss. Those aboard were rescued.

Forerunning Germany's Graf Zeppelin and Hindenburg, the British army was the first to fly the Atlantic when its R-34 made a round-trip to New York in July, 1919. Records were established both ways, according to "The World In the Air," a history of these events.

T. Maxey Hart to Succeed Father As Federal Court Clerk

SAN ANTONIO, May 20.—(AP)—T. Maxey Hart today announced he had resigned the clerkship of the Fourth Court of Civil Appeals here to accept appointment as clerk of the federal court of the western district of Texas to succeed his father, H. H. Hart, who died last week.

At the same time Hart announced that Robert L. Cook, director of the state old age pension assistance commission here, had been appointed clerk of the fourth court, effective June 1.

Hart, a former baseball and football captain and star at the University of Texas, was appointed to the Federal position by Judge Charles L. Boynton of El Paso, senior judge of the district.

Cook will, of course, resign his state job to take over the fourth court position. Cook is a former rancher and a banker at Atascosa County.

CCC Director Has Salary Reduced

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—The senate voted today to cut the salary of Civilian Conservation Corps Director Robert Fencher from $12,000 to $10,000 annually.

The salary-trimming amendment was adopted 44 to 29. It was offered by Senator Clark (D-Mo) to legislation for establishing the CCC on a permanent basis. A similar amendment already had been approved by the house.

CATHOLIC WOMEN TO BOYCOTT GOODS INDECENTLY SHOWN

HOUSTON, May 20.—(AP)—Catholic Daughters of America in Texas were on record today as ready to boycott goods "indecently" advertised and to start a drive against communistic propaganda in this state.

The group also resolved at its convention here yesterday that "persistent intervention of our American government in neighboring Mexico" should cease.

Officers elected were: Mrs. A. J. LeBlanc, San Antonio, regent; Mrs. H .H. Edwards, Corpus Christi, vice recent; Mrs. Stephen F. Brady, Ft. Worth, state secretary; Mrs. A. J. Loustanau, San Antonio, treasurer, and Mrs. N. M. Bates, Wichita Falls, monitor.

The organization will meet next year in Fort Worth.

Jap Economists Favor Reciprocal Trade Agreements

DALLAS, May 20.—(AP)—K. Fukishima, acting chairman of the Japanese Economic Mission, said here today that Japan is sympathetic toward the reciprocal trade principles as proposed by Secretary of State Cordell Hlul. He expressed the hope that members of the mission, stopping here today, might discuss the proposals with Hull when they visit Washington.

Another member of the party, Genge Kodero, president of Dai Nippon Cotton Spinning Company, Osaka, said the mission would like to see the possibilities of increased American use of Japan's raw silk and general merchandise so that trade between the two countries might approximate a balance.

"As Texans well know," Mr. Kodera said "Japan buys more from America than any country in the world except Canada and Great Britain. Japan purchases more from the United States than from all the rest of Asia combined. We buy about 400,000,000 yen of Texas and other American cotton alone, to say nothing of oil, hides and skins and other commodities produced in Texas. In return, America is the largest market for Japan."

The visitors will leave tonight for Houston.

Louisiana Farmer Gets Life In Death Common Law Wife

VILLE PLATTE, LA., May 20.—(AP)—Melvin Vidrine, 27-year-old Evangeline parish farmer, today was convicted of murder without capitol punishment for killing his common law wife, Frozina Vizinat, 24. The verdict carries a life sentence.

Vidrine had based his defense on the contention that he shot his wife after she begged him to, because she was "tired of living." He buried her body in a shallow grave in the woods.

The jury deliberated overnight after hearing from the young farmer fumble a story of poverty and hardship in the backwood of the Acadian country.

Texas Federation Backs Court Bill

TYLER, May 20.—(AP)—The Texas Federation of Labor today stood firmly back of President Roosevelt's efforts to change the supreme court.

The state convention adopted a resolution saying the court reform plan was an obvious need in the light of "reversals of its own decisions" and "differences of opinion among justices themselves."

The federation rejected a resolution which would have condemned legislative moves to repeal the state's horse racing betting statutes.

FRUIT RIPENS EVERYWHERE IN DECORATION SCHEMES

NOT FOR EATING

The fruit and vegetables at the left are decalcomania garlands to brighten the kitchen; at the right are examples of gay pottery models for table decoration.

By MARY DAVIS GILLIES
Prepared By McCall's Magazine
For The Daily Sun

Fruits and vegetables will not be merely for eating this year. Schiaparelli's newest hats bear fruit; spring suits display nosegays of radishes or green peppers; fabrics, wallpaper and accessories sprinkle garden produce over the smartest houses.

The new chintzes have very appetizing fruits. The favorite Victorian design of pomegranate and grape festoons has been revived charmingly. But if your tastes are modern, you may prefer an espaliered pear tree or a mold cornstalk chintz.

Wallpapers with fruits and vegetables you can almost taste are naturally right for kitchens and breakfast rooms. For kitchens (especially cabinets) there are decalcomanias with a luscious selection ranging from string beans to gooseberries. Their gayety will transform a plain window shade into a decoration.

Pottery has the advantage over wallpaper because its new fruit and vegetable shapes look more real; their lively informality will cheer the summer table. The guests can't help being in the right mood when tomato bouillon is served in covered red tomato-shaped bowls or baked apples in rosy red dishes.

Pineapples, cabbage, artichokes and ears of corn are some of the other amusing shapes in the new pottery.

Linen table mats with sprigs of green pepers, tole trays with circles of cherries—even a white tole desk set with cherries or strawberries—decorative fruits and vegetables are certainly a bumper crop this year.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

Dust Once Chased All Animals From Western Nebraska

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor.

LINCOLN, Neb.—Present - day American "ain't seen nothin'" yet of the dust storm of which the southwest was once capable. Around 20,000 years ago they even chased the animals out of western Nebraska.

The evidence is reported by Dr. A. L. Lugn department of geology. Because of what the dust storms buried and the peculiar conditions of the dust formations of long ago in that area, Dr. Lugn finds that western Nebraska probably will be the richest spot in the United States for revealing convincing evidence of the antiquity of man in North America.

The Nebraska geologists have found three layers of "horizons" in the western Nebraska dust-made lands. The top is the soil known to present-day man. Below is a great depth showing no buried evidences of human habitation. Below that is a third layer containing man's stone tools. Still lower, it is predicted one or two further "horizons" may be found.

Sick and Convalescent.

Connie Matthews, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Matthews, Jr., was reported to be much better Thursday at the P. and S. Hospital, and likely will be taken home tomorrow.

Mrs. C. L. Witherspoon, a patient at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, is still in a critical condition, with little improvement noted.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hopper, 1008 West Eleventh avenue, became the parents of a fine six-pound baby boy yesterday morning at the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic. Both mother and the baby were doing nicely Thursday.

MEMBER OF SUPREME COURT ANNOUNCES HE WILL RETIRE JUNE 2

SEVENTY-EIGHT YEAR OLD JUSTICE HAS BEEN ON THE BENCH TWENTY-SIX YEARS

By JOHN T. SUTER

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter announced today his retirement from the Supreme Court, effective June 2, thus clearing the way for President Roosevelt to make his first appointment to the high bench.

The 78-year-old justice, who has served 26 years in the court, made known his intention in a letter to the President.

Mr. Roosevelt immediately wrote a brief acknowledgement in long hand extending to the jurist "every good wish" and inviting him to call at the White House before he leaves Washington.

The President's letter said:

"My Dear Mr. Justice Van Devanter:

"I have received your letter of this morning, telling me that you are retiring from regular active service on the bench on June 2, 1937.

"May I as one who has had the privilege of knowing you for many years, extend to you every good wish.

"Before you leave Washington for the summer it would give me great personal pleasure if you would come in to see me.

"Very sincerely yours,

(signed) "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Aroused Excitement.

News of the retirement aroused widespread excitement on Capital Hill where intense interest already was centered on the senate judiciary committee's vote today on President Roosevelt's bill to reorganize the supreme court.

Under the re-organization plan the President would have power to add six new justices to the high bench, one for each present member of the court over 70.

Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz.) told newspapermen the retirement "immensely promotes" the prospects for passage of the bill but Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) opposition leader, demanded withdrawal of the bill. "There is absolutely no excuse whatever for going ahead," he said.

Van DeVanter has long been considered a conservative member of the court. His retirement brought from Chief Justice Hughes a statement that the court would suffer a "most serious loss."

Statement of Hughes.

In a statement the Chief Justice said:

"His long judicial experience, his extraordinary memory and grasp of precedents, his acumen and fairness enabled him to render a service of inestimable value in our deliberations, while his equable temperament, his tact and unfailing kindliness made him an ideal associate. We shall greatly miss him."

Officials vested with high authority said there probably would be no more retirements from the court at this time. But others said that before the beginning of the fall term of the court in October, Justice Sutherland might take advantage of the retirement act.

Four other justices are eligible for retirement—Chief Justice Hughes and Associate Justices McReynolds, Brandeis, and Butler.

Letter to President.

Van DeVanter wrote this letter to Mr. Roosevelt:

"My Dear President:

"Having held my commission as an associate justice of the United States, and served in that court, for twenty-six years, and having come to be seventy-eight years of age, I desire to avail myself of the rights, privileges and judicial service specified in the Act of March 1, 1937, entitled "An act to provide for retirement of justice of the supreme court," and to that end I hereby retire from regular active service on the bench—this retirement to be effective on and after the second day of June, 1937, that being the day next following the adjournment of the present term of court.

"I have the honor to remain,

"Very respectfully yours,

"(Signed) Willis Van De Vanter.

"The President."

(The act to which the justice referred permits justices over 70 to retire at full pay—$20,000 annually.)

Considered Conservative.

Van DeVanter has been a member of the court since 1911. Considered a conservative by the administration, his departure from the bench will give President Roosevelt an opportunity to select a successor—his first appointment to the bench.

There was instant speculation on capitol hill over the effect Van DeVanter's action would have on the court fight. Administration leaders, however, awaited word from the White House.

The retirement created the first vacancy on the court since 91-year-old Oliver Wendell Holmes resigned in 1932 after serving 30 years. He was succeeded by Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo.

Until the beginning of the present term of court last October, Van DeVanter had voted against administration action or laws 12 times and for it once in litigation before the tribunal. The sole exception was the Tennesse Valley Authority controversy and the decision did not involve constitutionality of the act.

This term, however, he voted in line with the administration nine times and against it three times. Two of the three votes were against application of the Wagner labor relations act to the Associated Press and the manufacturing concerns.

The other was against the administrations contention that the congressional resolution abrogating payment of obligations in gold coin applied to bullion as well as to coin.

Only three Cases.

If a justice whose views were those of administration lawyers had been on the bench instead of Van Devanter since Mr. Roosevelt was inaugurated in 1933, it would have changed the outcome of only three major cases.

These involved the New York law establishing minimum wages for women, the railway pension act and the municipal bankruptcy statute, all five to four decisions. The court has since reversed itself and upheld a Washington state law fixing womens' minimum wages.

Plans also are under way for a revised railway pension measure.

Only 14 justices in the history of the nation have surpassed Van Devanter in length of service on the high court. He was a member of the tribunal for 26 years, the record of 34 years was established by Justice Field who served from 1863 to 1897. The famed Chief Justice John Marshall, who died in 1835, was beaten by a few months.

Despite his age, Van Devanter appeared to be in excellent health. He delighted in tramping over a farm he recently bought in Maryland. And he went duck hunting as often as he could.

Only a few months ago he received considerable public attention as a result of his failure to obtain a $1 hunting license stamp before blazing away at the canvas backs along the Potomac river in Virginia.

He was accosted by a game warden who asked to see the stamp. The justice admitted he had none and pleaded ignorance of the law. After the Rev. Zebarney Phillips, chaplain of the senate, had revealed Van Devanters' identity, the warden departed chuckling. A stamp was immediately procured.

Earlier, he attracted attention by his refusal to accept benefit payments under the agricultural adjustment act which he helped to hold unconstitutional.

His wife, who died in 1934, had owned several Montana wheat farms operated by tenants. When the justice received the AAA benefit payments, he promptly returned the money.

"Because I voted for the invalidation of AAA," he explained, "I do not feel I could accept the checks."

Van Devanter served under three chief justices, White, Taft and Hughes. Friends said it was the elderly jurist's intention to make himself available for service on assignment by Chief Justice Hughes to one of the circuit courts of appeal. He was expected by intimates to spend most of his time on his 788-acre farm near Baltimore.

Considered Authority.

The justice was considered the court's authority on federal jurisdiction, public lands and water rights. Whenever a case involving those questions was under argument, he took a leading part in questioning the attorneys.

Arduous service in the Republican party and energetic years as a lawyer carried him to the supreme court by appointment of President Taft.

Three other president appointed him to high office:

Harrison named him chief justice of the Wyoming supreme court before it became a state. He was then 30. He was elected to continue in that position after it was admitted to the union.

McKinley appointed him as an assistant attorney general of the United States. Theodore Roosevelt made him a judge of the circuit court of appeals in 1903. He continued in that position until he was elevated to the supreme court.

In 1896 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention and a member of the Republican national committee.

The justice was born at Marion, Indiana, and went to Wyoming when he was 25.

First Appointment for Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—Retirement of Associate Justice Willis Van Devanter will give President Roosevelt his first opportunity to name a member of the supreme court.

Not since February 15, 1932, has a nomination for membership on the high tribunal been transmitted to the senate. It was on that date that President Hoover nominated Benjamin N. Cardozo of New York. He was confirmed February 24 and entered upon his duties on March 14.

Cardozo succeeded Oliver Wendell Holmes, who resigned at the age of 91 after serving 30 years and was the last justice to leave the court. He died two days before his 95th birthday.

Pioneers Remember Justice.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 18.—(AP)—Wyoming pioneers recalled today Justice Willis Van Devanter, whose retirement June 2, from the United States Supreme Court was announced at Washington, as a vigorous young attorney who "rode the circuit" from court to court on horse-back and helped wipe out cattle rustlers.

He came to the then territory of Wyoming in 1884 as a 25-year old attorney with three years of practice behind him at his native town of Marion, Ind., and immediately plunged into life of the frontier region.

Van Devanter served as city attorney at Cheyenne, as commissioner to revise the statute laws of Wyoming, a member of the territorial legislature and delegate to congress.

SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE 10 TO 8 AGAINST PROGRAM

RETIREMENT OF VAN DEVANTER DECLARED TO ENHANCE CHANCE PASSAGE

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The senate judiciary committee voted 10 to 8 today to report the Roosevelt court bill adversely to the senate.

First members to emerge from the committe session said all amendments except a few clarifying changes, were rejected by the dominant opposition majority.

The vote, taken in executive session shortly after announcement of the retirement of Justice Van DeVanter, came out just as it had been forecast for more than a week.

For almost two hours, the committee voted down compromise after compromise.

Senator Borah (R-Ida), one of the leading foes of the president's bill, stepped out of the committee room to tell newspapermen:

"Ten to eight adversely."

The line-up on the final vote, Borah said, was just as it had been forecast—with seven democrats and three republicans opposing the presidential measure to increase the size of the supreme court.

Seven Democrats and Norris

Seven democrats and Senator Norris, the lone independent voted for the bill.

After Justice Van DeVanter had announced his retirement, effective June 2, Chairman Ashurst (D-Ariz) told newspapermen the retirement "immensely promotes" the prospect for passage of the court measure.

On the other hand an opposition leader—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont)—quickly demanded withdrawal of the president's plan.

He said "there is absolutely no excuse whatever for going ahead."

Word of Van DeVanter's retirement quickly spread through the capitol. Excited senators called each other to talk it over and discuss the possible effect of the bitter court bill controversy.

There was little prospect it would immediately affect the vote in the judiciary committee, where sentiment was thoroughly crystallized. But some senators felt it would have a tremendous long range effect on the measure.

Ten of the 18 members of the committee are publicly committee against the bill which would permit the addition of as many as six new justices unless those now over 70 retire.

There were hints that Ashurst had talked with the white house before calling in newspapermen.

When they walked in his office, he feigned ignorance of the retirement announcement. When told that Van DeVanter had formally announced it, the committee chairman said:

"That immensely promotes the bill. That means it will certainly pass."

Asked if the bill would be withdrawn, now that court decisions did not rest upon the judgment "of a single vacciliating judge," as court bill supporters had contended, Ashurst said:

"I never heard of a man who surrendered when he was winning. when the bill came out it was as popular as a pole cat at a picnic. But the bill has gathered strength. Whatever has happened has helped the bill."

Wheeler, reached by telephone in his office, said:

"The president ought to withdraw the court bill immediately. There is absolutely no excuse whatever for going ahead with his fight, because the administration's measures will no longer be subject to one justice's opinion. If the bill is withdrawn I am certain that within the course of time there will be other retirements from the bench."

Senator Borah (D-Ida) said the retirement would have no effect on the outcome of the judiciary committee's voting because "the lines are already drawn."

Senator Burke (D-Neb), another opposition leader, said the retirement "should not have any affect on the courtbill."

Will Rule on Social Security.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(AP)—The supreme court will decide on constitutionality of the social security program either on next Monday or June 1, the only remaining "opinion days" before the summer recess.

(By long practice, the court delivers opinions in all cases argued, before adjourning for the summer).

A high justice department official disclosed today the government may seek an early ruling on another major controversy—the suit to dissolve the Aluminum Company of America—by appealing directly to the supreme court from an injunction by Federal Judge Robert M. Gibson at Pittsburgh.

Ordinarily, such an appeal would go first to the circuit court of appeals.

How They Voted.

Those voting to report the president's bill favorably, Ashurst said, were Senators Neely, Logan, Dieterich, McGill, Pittman, Hughes, Norris and Ashurst.

Those against were: Senators King, McCarran, Van Nuys, Hatch, Burke, Connally, O'Mahoney, Borah, Austin and Steiwer.

ALLEGED TRIPLE KILLER ANXIOUS GET IT OVER WITH

LESTER BROCKELHURST IS HEADED BACK FOR MURDER TRIAL IN ARKANSAS

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 18.—(AP)—Asking "how long will it be before I get the electric chair?" Lester Brockelhurst, 23, wanted on murder charges in three states, boarded a train today with Bernice Felton, 18, bound for a scheduled swift trial in Arkansas.

They were shackled together and in the custody of Prosecutor Joseph P. Melton, of Lonoke county, Arkansas.

Prosecutor Helton, who quoted Brockelhurst as asking how soon he would face legal death for the murder of Victor Gates, wealthy Little Rock plantation owner, said he replied:

"Six days at the least after trial starts and 30 days at the most."

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., May 18.—(AP)—Anxious to "get it over with," Lester Brockelhurst, 23, wanted on murder charges in three states, was headed today for a swift trial in Arkansas by virtue of Governor Lehman's decision "that that state has the strongest case against him."

After a conference with Illinois, Texas and Arkansas officials, the New York governor signed extradition papers sending the "crime tourist" back to face trial on a charge of killing Victor Gates, wealthy Arkansas plantation owner.

"I am willing to return," said the former Sunday school teacher. His sweetheart, Bernice Felton, 18, charged with being an accessory, likewise told the county judge, J. Gordon Flannery, "I am willing to go back."

Prosecuting Attorney George Hartje of Arkansas said he would demand the death penalty for both. Barring delay by the defense, Hartje said trial would be started in circuit court at Lonoke next week.

Abraham Felton said his daughter now realizes that Brockelhurst told her "a cock and bull story" of being "hounded" by police.

Ready Give Quick Trials.

LONOKE, Ark., May 18.—(AP)—Court officials of this little farming town geared their legal machinery today to give Lester Brockelhurst, midwestern "crime tourist" and his girl friend, Bernice Felton, quick trials on charges of murder for the slaying of Victor A. Gates, Little Rock landowner.

Prosecuting Attorney George Hartje said he would demand "death for both of them."

Sheriff Troy Carroll and Deputy Prosecutor Joseph P. Melton obtained custody of the pair at an extradition hearing before Governor Herbert Lehman of New York at Albany yesterday. They were expected to arrive here with the prisoners Thursday.

Red River Fishing Bill Signed.

AUSTIN, May 19.—(AP)—Governor Allred signed into law today a bill legalizing fishing with hooks, traps, seines and nets in cut-back waters of the Red River in Fannin, Cooke, Grayson, Lamar, Red River and Bowie counties.

NEW ANGLE ENTERS GREEN ESTATE CASE; DAUGHTERS HINTED

NEW YORK, May 20.—(AP)—A mysterious reference to "my two daughters" by the supposedly childless multi-millionaire, Col. Edward H. R. Green, was described today by a witness in the $70,000,000 Green will dispute.

The alleged revelation that Green left other possible heirs to the fabulous estate created a stir in the court room, heralding further complications in the long-fought court battle.

Wilbur K. Potter, former business agent for Col. Green, said:

"I never heard of Col. Green having any daughters, or any children."

The testimony of Green having "two daughters" came from Henry Woodhouse, president of the Aerial League of America, who said that the June, 1918, issue of a magazine called "flying" contained a brief sketch of Col. Green. The article, he said, was handed to him personally by Col. Green, who, he said, apparently had either written it himself or approved it.

"Col. Green was a life member of the Aerial League of America, having joined in 1918," Woodhouse said, "and in handing me the article for publication, he told me, 'I am going to get life memberships for my two daughters too'."

Questioned as to the authenticity of the magazine article, which was produced in court, Woodhouse said:

"That's the way he gave it to me, word for word. And he had passed on it for publication."

The magazine article, introduced as evidence ended with the words:

"Col. Green's two daughters are also members of the Aerial League."

No further reference to the alleged "two daughters" was made in the day's hearing of the dispute, which centers on the attempt of four states—Massachusetts, New York, Texas and Florida—to collect taxes on the huge fortune, and attempt by the Colonel's widow, Mrs. Mabel Green, to abrogate a prenuptial agreement giving up all claims to the estate in return for an $18,000 annuity for life.

The question of where Col. Green maintained his legal residence is the most poins in the fight for millions.

HOUSE REFUSES TO CONCUR JUDICIARY SUPPORT MEASURE

DISPARITY BETWEEN DALLAS AND HARRIS JUDGES, SALARIES IS CAUSE

AUSTIN, May 19.—(AP)—The conference committee report on the first of the five major appropriation bills, that for support of the judiciary, struck a snag in the house today.

The lower chamber rejected the report because it limited salaries of Dallas county district judges to $6,500 each although permitting Harris county judge to receive $7,400. An effort to kill the motion to reject lost by two votes.

Harry N. Graves of Georgetown, chairman of the house appropriations committee, said the report of conferes on the eleemosynary proposal was virtually complete, and the lawmakers still hoped to have all the money measures on the governor's desk by Saturday night.

The conference committee on the judiciary bill was instructed to eliminate the rider cutting the pay of Dallas county district judges from $7,500 to $6,500.

In the face of announcement there would be no more meetings of the constitutional amendments committee, the senate re-referred to that group a proposal to return to the 60-day regular session of the legislature instead of the 120-day meeting now in effect.

Appended to the proposal was a suggested amendment substituting a unicameral legislature.

Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth argued the 120-day session had proved ineffective, while Senator H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur said the trouble was not the 120-day conclave but the influence of special interests.

Number Bills Signed.

Bills signed by Gov. James V. Allred included one to make the National Guard armory board a corporate entity so it might seek loans from the federal government for armory construction.

Another would establish a uniform closed season of February, March and April on fishing in Medina Lake, and a third would authorize San Antonio to make safety tests of motor vehicles.

Still other bills signed changed the name of the State Home for Dependent and Neglected Children to the Waco State Home, appropriated $1,200 to complete a survey for the Leon river conservation project and authorized incorporation to process citrus fruits and dust crops with insecticides by use of airplanes.

The governor filed without his signature a bill authorizing injunction suits to stop bullfighting against which there already was a prohibition enforceable by fine.

House Worked Far Into Last Night

AUSTIN, May 18.—(AP)—The house, ending its first week on half-pay, worked sleepily into the early morning hours today grinding out minor bills in the race of looming Saturday adjournment.

As a result, among more important proposals awaiting Gov. James V. Allred's signature were bills to: Appropriate $200,000 to redeem old warrants issued from the governor's emergency deficiency funds; permit the same legal privileges in Texas to married women living outside the state as those in the state; exempt from taxation premiums and assessments collected by county mutual inurance companies, and, increase salaries of Bexar county officials.

A bill which would prohibit fraternities and sororities in high schools was localized to apply to Dallas county and passed to the upper chamber.

All appropriations for burned schoolhouses, several of which the governor vetoed, failed of endorsement.

Many Nominations Submitted Today

AUSTIN, May 19.—(AP)—Governor James V. Allred submitted for senate confirmation today numerous nominations for appointive posts as follows:

Contract Awarded For Monument Of Antonio Navarro

Miss Allie Tennant, Dallas sculptress, was awarded the contract for the monument of Jose Antonio Navarro to be erected in Corsicana on the courthouse lawn, according to information received by Ted B. Ferguson, chairman of the local advisory committee, and others. The contract was awarded in Austin on Tuesday.

No date has been set for the completion of the work and it is known that considerable time will necessarily elapse since research work will be necessary to learn the physical attributes of the pioneer Texan and then the work will be executed from the information secured.

GET RID OF YOUR WRINKLES.

BURN AWAY YOUR WRINKLES

Sunburn your face this summer with an oil which Miss Forbes recommends, which will do wonders in making even deep wrinkles disappear from your skin.

E. K. Forbes

Let the summer sun this year cure your wrinkles and give you a healthy skin, not too tanned, but of fine texture and firm of flesh. You can this face treatment in conection with the health and reducing treatments I talked of yesterd a y. Simply follow these directions, and take off an hour to an hour and a half in the hottest part of each day.

A protected sun bathing spot is a good idea: If you have not such a place in your garden, why not make one by putting up those cheap green split bamboo screens, which cost less than $1.25 each, fixing them so they are just high enough to protect you from the general public gaze, but not too high to screen off the sun. Three would make you a nice triangular bathing spot, and they help stop the cool wind which might chill you or prevent a real hot perspiration.

You want a pair of large dark glasses for your eyes, a triangle of material to tie over your hair, and a bottle of odorless castor oil. A large bottle is best, it is cheap and it will last you the summer. Before sun bathing you wash your face clean, and when in the sun, you rub on a generous amount of the oil, especially around the eyes, down the neck, and under the chin, or wherever the wrinkles are coming.

You lie there and let the hot sun bake the oil into your skin. You tan a most lovely golden shade, for this is the best of all beach oils. If the wrinkles are bad around the eyes, discard the glasses, so the sun gets near the eyes but put wads of cotton on the eyelids themselves to protect them from the glare. With such a thick film of oil, you cannot sunburn in the nasty way, which means soreness and peeling. But you should take it in easy stages at first anyhow, perhaps fifteen minutes, then twenty, then thirty each day.

M. E. D.—You would gain so little by rubbing any thing into your arms, that it would only discourage you long before there would be any effect for your efforts. Apparently, you are growing fast, and the type that grows in height first, and fills out afterwards. Now that you are sixteen years of age, it will not be long before you will be rounding out all over your body, with arms sharing in it. With reasonable care of the health, enough exercise, balanced with rest, some hours each day outdoors, you will have an appetite for food, and digest it too, and with each season, there will be added pounds, and a full rounding out in a few years.

H. P. C.—If you will send a stamped addressed envelope for mailing you the cream formulas, I will be glad to forward them. You need special directions that cannot be given at this time, as you appear not to have tried to make a cream before this one. In the meantime, use any fine vegetable oil on your skin, for any purpose whatever.

Mrs. W.—The crepey appearance of your skin must be a temporary matter, due to some conditions that will pass after a short time. No one can have a serious condition that would affect the skin to make it shrivel at the age of twenty-seven; although a run-down state, or some skin disease might make the skin look dry and sallow for a time. If you are in good health, and take reasonable care of your skin, it will probably improve with the change now to more hours out in the air and sun. There is nothing like spring for improving the appearance of the skin, just as the entire body should feel the renewal with everything else in nature.

Will You Come Out

And unlock my car door. I've locked my keys up inside. You need not worry if this happens to you.

New York Cotton Opens Higher

NEW YORK, May 30.—(AP)—Cotton futures were steady at the opening, up 7 to 8 points on higher Liverpool cables, trade and foreign buying. July 12.84; Oct. 12.74; Dec. 12.74; Jan. 12.76; March 12.80; May 12.86.

Trading was fairly active on an accumulation of overnight buying orders but after these had been executed the market became quiet.

July liquidation and exchanging to later deliveries was again a feature.

Spot houses absorbed the near month offerings at a slightly narrower premium. There was other scattered liquidation, influenced by favorable weather conditions in the cotton belt, and easier grain markets.

Oct. eased from 12.74 to 12.71 and was 12.72 at the end of the first half hour with prices up to 7 points net higher. Forward positions were somewhat steadier on foreign buying.

Reports some fine spinning mills in New England were closing down for an indefinite period because of inability to dispose of goods at present prices were regarded as unfavorable.

Liverpool reported quiet pre-holiday conditions. After closing today that market will not reopen until Monday. Local and Bombay buying supported the market there.

A mid-morning rally developed on Wall sreet buying and covering promoted by an advance in stocks. Foreign demand also continued until the markets abroad closed. In the absence of a follow-up to the buying side, however, prices tended to ease under scatetred selling when other commodity markets displayed a heavy tone.

October, after selling up to 12.77, reacted to its early low of 12.71. At midday it was 12.72 when prices were generally 3 to 8 points net higher.

New Orleans Cotton Higher.

NEW ORLEANS, May 20.—(AP)—Cotton opened quiet but steady and initial trades showed gains of 6 to 8 points above the previous close.

Steadier foreign advices appeared to be the main incentive behind the early demand. Liverpool cabled that Bombay straddle reversing and local buying more than offset hedging.

The trade bought and there was some scattered covering. July opened at 12.70, Oct. at 12.71, Dec. at 12.79, Jan. 12.83 and March 12.80.

The market receded a point or two after the start on a little profit taking, bu toward the end of the first half hour prices were a or near the opening figures.

The market continued to advance slowly during the morning until active positions showed gains of 10 to 13 points compared with the previous close.

Higher prices attracted some realizing, however, and near mid-session the market was quiet but steady 5 to 11 points net higher.

The advance in stocks appeared to be the main factor behind the late morning advance, as there was nothing in the news to stimulate prices.

The weather continued favorable and there were only scattered showers shown over the belt. Cloth markets continued quiet.

Near the middle hour July sold at 12.69, Oct. 12.70, and Dec. 12,84. Other positions were inactive at their opening figures.

MORGENTHAU OPPOSES GENERAL CONFERENCE MONETARY MATTERS

WASHINGTON, May 20.—(AP)—Treasury authorities disclosed today that Secretary Morgenthau is opposed to any general monetary conference with other nations.

The treasury chief, informed officials said, believes that any monetary agreements looking toward stabilization or other ends should be worked out in talks with individual nations.

These persons said Morgenthau feels that big conferences involving many nations customarily bog down in widespread differences.

Recently, there have been suggestions that the United States join with Latin American nations to work out some general monetary understanding in this hemisphere.

On Capitol Hill, a proposal has been advanced to hold a general monetary conference designed to effect a redistribution of the world's gold supply.

Close associates of Morgenthau said he felt much the same as the late Will Rogers about international conferences. They cited Rogers remark that America "loses its shirt" every time it goes into a conference.

Wheat Prices Drop.

CHICAGO, May 20.—(AP)—With the Winnipeg wheat market tumbling more than 3 cents a bushel today because of beneficial rains northwest and dearth of export trade, prices here gave way in late dealings about 2 cents.

Resting orders to buy wheat on price declines in Chicago helped to sustain the market to some extent. Besides, domestic winter wheat crops did not greatly participate in moisture that visited the spring wheat belt.

At the close, wheat was 1 1-4 to 1 7-8 under yesterday's finish, May 1.32, July 1.21 5-8 3-4, corn 1 1-2 down to 1-2 up, May 1.33, July 1.18 7-8 1.19, and oats unchanged to 3-8 off.

REGULAR MEETING BOARD DIRECTORS CHAMBER COMMERCE

HIGHWAY AFFAIRS, TRAFFIC SIGNALS AND BUS TERMINAL DISCUSSED

A decision to hold quarterly meetings of membership and directors was reached at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning. A considerable portion of the meeting was devoted to highway affairs, traffic signals, and bus terminal topics.

A communication was read from officials in charge of the formal opening of the highway overpass at Mexia inviting Corsicana to be represented at the celebration on May 24. Members of the chamber and other citizens desiring to attend were asked to notify the secretary of the chamber so that Mexia officials could make ample preparations.

The Corsicana board also voted to extend congratulations to E. L. Smith of Mexia on his elevation to the presidency of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary R. W. Knight read letters from two division engineers for the highway department reporting that East Texas highways would carry directions to Corsicana as well as to Waco.

A letter to E. L. Keith from the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce was read to the directors. The Arizona officials reported that no charge was made of tourists crossing the state, but inspections were required.

Discuss Bus Terminal.

The directors agreed that Corsicana should co-operate with Fairfield in securing mail service to the Freestone county capital by bus if possible, and suggested that such a project might react favorably on Bowen bus officials to such an extent they might erect proper comfort facilities in Corsicana. The directors were informed that every effort was being made to secure a bus terminal for the city but that all attempts had failed up to the present time. Some traffic of the busses through the city might hasten the conclusion of the negotiations.

President W. P. McCammon recalled that several weeks ago a committee was named to study the installation of needed traffic lights at points along Highway 75 and on North Beaton street, and reported that nothing had been accomplished. It was suggested that expert advice on the signals necessary should be secured as soon as possible and every effort made to secure the proper protection for local motorists.

Lowry Martin, chairman of a special committee, reported that efforts to secure a brief visit of President Franklin D. Roosevelt had been successful and that a huge crowd greeted the chief executive on his visit here.

Industrial Committee.

Chairman Ted B. Ferguson reported that the industrial committee was busy on several projects but no definite information on their progress was available at present.

He also announced that Arthur Coleman of Holland's Magazine would be the chief speaker at the Civitan club luncheon on June 12 on a subject "Science and Inventions in Industry." Members of the board and others were urged to join the Civitans for that meeting.

Mr. Martin also reported that considerable progress had been made by the civic affairs committee on itst clean-up campaign and that especially good co-operation had been received from the schools.

B. L. Sanders reported on a barbecue held at Waxahachie honoring the highway commission members. He stated that both Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt and Harry Hines had urged Texas citizens write their congressman and senators asking support of the Dean bill to appropriate large funds for unrestricted use for highway purposes. It was pointed out that gaps in the present system could not be closed with present revenues in less than ten years.

Interested New Road.

It was also brought out that Corsicana was interested in a proposed road from Waxahachie to this city via Emhouse.

President McCammon also announced the personnel of the special committee authorized to make a study of the possible extension of the city limits prior to the 1940 census. The committee includes R. L. Wheelock, chairman, E. W. Ellis and A. F. Mitchell.

After a discussion of the various types of membership meetings that could be held, the board adopted a motion to hold a joint meeting of the directorate and the membership once each quarter in order to bring all of the units of the organization into closer contact.

BASEBALL ENTHUSIASTS SEEK FORM LEAGUE; MEET MONDAY NIGHT

Preliminary plans looking to the formation of a Navarro county baseball league were made at a meeting of interested fans and officials Wednesday night at the YMCA.

Bazette and the Girard Oilers definitely announced they would enter the proposed circuit while several others intimated they were interested. Another meeting has ben called for the YMCA Monday night at 8 o'clock when definite information and decision will be made.

Teams to be contacted in the meantime include the American Well and Prospecting company, Corsicana Cotton Mills and Magnolia Refiners, all of Corsicana; Navarro, Currie, Rice, Richland and Farmer.

Fred Hogden, field manager of Girard Oil company and manager of the baseball club, was chairman of the meeting.

The committee to contact prospective teams include Babe Ruth, Pat Horn, Bones Sanders, Everett Smith and Paul Moore.

A six or eight-club league is sought. No definite decision was reached, but from the opinions prevalent at Wednesday evening's sessions, Sunday and holidays will be included on the schedule in the event the circuit is formed.

SERIES OF PROGRAMS WILL MARK CLOSE OF SCHOOL AT EMHOUSE

The following series of programs will mark the close of the 1936-37 school term of the Emhouse public schools, according to an announcement by Superintendent Melvin Taylor:

Sunday evening, May 23, high school baccalaureate service, with the Reverend Thomas M. Price, pastor of the Methodist church of Malakoff, delivering the sermon:

Monday evening, May 24, an expression recital of pupils of Miss Minnie Beth Elliott.

Wednesday evening, May 26, elementary school graduation exercises.

Thursday evening, May 27, high school commencement exercises, with Mr. Odie Minatra, former superintendent of the State Orphans Home, and present assistant director of the old age rehabilitation division at Austin, as the guest speaker.

All of the above programs will start at 8 o'clock and a cordial invitation is extended to not only the citizens of the Emhouse community to attend, but also to the friends of Rev. Price and Mr. Minatra to again enjoy the eloquence of these able speakers on Sunday and Thursday nights, respectively.

School will be dismissed for the summer vacation on May 28.

Dog Noted For Feats of Rescue Kills Girl Skiier

GRENOBLE, France, May 19.—(AP)—A great Saint Bernard, noted for its rescue feats, rushed down the snowy slope from the storied monastery of Mount St. Bernard today and killed a 10-year old girl before her father's eyes.

The little girl, Marianne Bremond, was on a skiing trip from her home at Chesieres, Switzerland, with her father and two sisters.

She was so severely bitten she died shortly after monks from the hospice drove off the dog and administered first aid. Her father was unable to save her.

As is their wont, the dog, with other Saint Bernards, dashed out to greet the travelers near the monastery. Monks were at a loss to explain the ensuing assault.

It never had happened before, they said. The dog in question was "known for its good disposition," they added.

Flasher Signals Being Installed At S. P. Crossing

Installation was started Monday on a pair of flasher signals at the intersection of East Seventh avenue and the Southern Pacific tracks, just north of the express office. The signals are expected to be placed in operation in about two weeks.

The new equipment will be automatically operated, giving motorists a red signal when trains approach within a certain distance of the crossing, and will revert to green when the train leaves the block. The lights will replace the watchman at this crossing, and his new assignment has not been determined.

Local railroad officials also reported that freight traffic through Corsicana has shown a fine increase, virtually doubling the volume of traffic since 1934, when an average of 5,500 cars per month were reported handled over the interchange tracks. In addition, some 3,000 cases per month are handled over the Cotton Belt and Southern Pacific Lines in the Corsicana yards to and from industrial firms.

Recently switching service has been enlarged to seven days per week for the benefit of local shippers, and an additional man has been stationed in the local ticket office.

Curb Quiet.

NEW YORK, May 20.—(AP)—Except for a few issues the curb market showed negligible price changes today.

Technicolor moved up about 1 1-2 in the first hour on a fair volume. Pittsburgh Plate Glass rose 3 on small dealings while Gray Telephone Pay Station improved 2 over the previous sale. McWilliams Dredging dropped 1.

There were slight gains in American Gas and Electric, Arkansas Natural Gas "A," Electric Bond and Share. Lake Shore Mines, and United Wall Paper.

A shade lower were Niagara Hudson Power, Sunray Oil and United Light and Power "A."

WOMAN MEMBER OF PRISON BOARD SAYS CONVICTS CHAINED

HOUSTON, May 20.—(AP)—Mrs. C. A. Teagle, member of the Texas prison board in charge of welfare, said today two Retrieve farm convicts had been chained and padlocked together several days.

She said the convicts, "Starvation" (first name unavailable) Merson, and Johnny Ray, who last fall severed tendons in their right legs in a protest against work, were released from their chains and returned to the garden squad today. She said Captain H. W. Miller of the farm, notified her the convicts were released from their chains late yesterday.

Mrs. Teagle said she saw the men in chains last week, adding that the convicts had jammed the locks to prevent their release before she saw them.

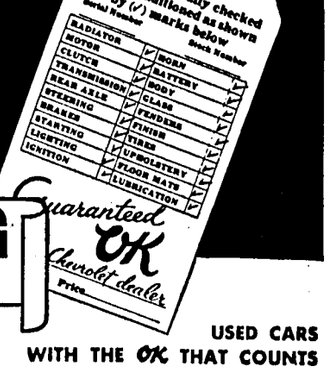

Trouble over work, Mrs. Teagle said, was the cause of the punishment in chains. She said the men were chained closely together after they insisted on taking a rest during work hours.

Jack Ellingson, general manager of the prison sytsem, said no report of any trouble at Retrieve farm had been made to him. He added that Mershon had given considerable trouble at the farm, where the state's worst criminals are kept, and coud not be handled except in solitary confinement.

Chairman W. A. Paddock of the prison board said he had heard of the trouble with Mershon.

Mrs. Teagle said the men were padlocked together with heavy chains around their necks.

"GOOD FELLOW'S" BAD BARGAIN SPLIT UP A FAMOUS FAMILY*

When A Cunning Brother Overreached His Weaker Twin, A Train Of Dire Consequences Were Set In Motion — The Immortal Shame Of The Man Who Sold His Birthright

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Was it Talleyrand who said that the world is made up of only two classes of persons, the shearers and the shorn? Here is an old and vivid story that makes concrete his generalization. It sets us to wondering whether this unbrotherly state of mind can ever be changed.

At the very root of all our present-day problems lies this one. After all the politicians and economists and philosophers and reformers have said their wordy say, there still remains the basic question, "Will man ever cease to exploit man? Will the strong forego their power to take advantage of the weak? Is the real brother-spirit an attainable goal for all of life? Will the Esaus forever remain the prey of the Jacobs?"

Let us not deceive ourselves. No mere change in political system can effect this fundamental and essential reform. As the news from Russia shows, Communism is as helpless as Fascism to bring it to pass. Autocracy and democracy alike have proved a congenial field for the machinations of the Jacobs against the Esaus. If we are brave enough to think straight, and to deal honestly with realities, we must know that only some force which can change human nature is able to make brotherhood real. And the only adequate force in sight is vital religion. Until God enters the transaction as controlling factor, brother will always overreach brother, and the strong will take advantage of the weak.

A Family Scene.

Our story setting is not a beautiful picture. In the patriarchal family we find Isaac, the weak father; and Rebekah, the designing and unscrupulous mother; and the uncongenial twin sons, Jacob and Esau. Each of the parents had a favorite son; and where favoritism exists in a family, other evils are certain to follow. Ae we observe the weakness of the sons, we may not overlook the causative weakness of the parents.

Esau was a "he man." Rugged, red-blooded, simple and direct in all his impulses, he loved the out of doors, a hunter and a free-riding "good fellow." He was doubtless a favorite in every gathering of men. He never outgrew the "good fellow" stage. His responsibilities as future head of the family meant nothing to him. He lived for the pleasures of the moment. A mature man usually thinks of tomorrow today. Not so Esau. Give him a good horse to ride, a good bow and arrows to wield, and a good field of game, with a good dinner afterward, and he was content.

His brother Jacob, who was his junior by a minute or so, was wholly otherwise. He was a stay-at-home boy and man, dear to his mother's heart and ever under her crafty tutelage. From the center of things he shrewdly studied self-advantage. He gave his cunning brain plenty of training. Naturally, he despised his gentle father, and his robustious brother.

A Bad Bargain.

It is always a bad bargain when selfishness and passion trade. Esau came home hungry from the hunt one day, and impulsively declared that he was dying for food. Jacob, who would not have been messing among the pots and the pans had he been more masculine, had prepared a savory stew, which his famishing brother craved. Even a stranger would have been entitled to a share of the meal, by all laws of oriental hospitality; but Jacob, perceiving his reckless brother's mood, saw a chance to gain an end over which he had long brooded, and plotted with his mother—the headship of the family. So, incredibly, he refused to feed Esau unless the latter would assign to him his birthright. And poor, thoughtless Esau, who never saw farther ahead than his own face, consented, and swore to the agreement.

When any appetite so masters a man that he will part with his spiritual inheritance to gratify it he abdicates his real manhood. Esau was not the first or the last to make this bad bargain. All the drunkards and gluttons and slaves of money and lust are repeating Esau's sin today.

The Esau Fashion Today.

For a man is more than a set of physical instincts, despite the mass of cock-eyed and high-sounding teaching that we hear and read today. Foolish, modern philosophy has ranged itself on the side of Esau. "Eat, drink and be merry," and never mind morals or religion, is its motto, when reduced to realistic terms. "Obey that impulse;" do as you please; live for your appetites and conveniences; take what you can get, and never mind the other fellow—so runs, in practice, the reasoning that has upset our world.

Birthrights would seem to be about the cheapest of the world's commodities today. Youth is being taught that for a red bauble from western Asia its sacred national historic heritage should be exchanged. Our long inheritance of Christian faith and character is on the bargain counter.

The sacredness of liberty under law, of moral responsibility, and of fidelity to future generations, is lightly esteemed. The Esau type of trade is booming. Birthrights are going for less than the mess of good red pottage. (And that pottage is good; for I have eaten it, at the scene of our day's Lesson). Many are selling their birthright, and not getting any pottage at all.

An Immortality Of Infamy.

This man Esau—who would have been a night-club imbitue had he lived in New York today—is held up by Scripture as a warning. He has immortality, but of infamy. Careless of the best things, he was the slave of his immediate desires. He abdicated that sense of reason and control which is the mark of manhood. His one impulsive act not only deprived him of his birthright, but it also sent him roaming from his father's tent, an exile, false to the family's divine mission; a man with a grievance and murder in his heart.

Straight as an arrow comes home to everybody who reads this familiar old story the message that man is more than a body; he is a living spirit; and the needs and desires of the flesh should ever be subordinate to the convictions of the soul. Less than that is less than manhood.

Extra Sulphur Dividend

NEW YORK, May 20.—(AP)—Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., directors declared an extra dividend of 25 cents and a regular quarterly of 50 cents, both payable June 15 to stock of record June 1. On March 15 the company paid a regular dividend of 50 cents.

TEXAS ALLOWABLE FOR JUNE IS BELOW BUREAU ESTIMATES

ALSO MORE THAN SIXTY THOUSAND BARRELS LESS THAN MAY ALLOWABLE

AUSTIN, May 19.—(AP)—The State Railroad Commission today fixed the oil allowable production for Texas in June at 1,350,262 barrels daily, 4,138 barrels below the estimate of demand made by the Federal bureau of mines and 60,974 barrels less than the basic allowable for May.

The commission previously had announced the allowable beginning June 1 would be 1,354,400 barrels but the formal order gave the lower figure, which also compared with estimated production on May 15 of 1,448,701 barrels.

It was the first time in months that the Texas production had been ordered cut below the bureau of mines estimate of market demand but the action was not unexpected. Members of the commission had been saying that production was exceeding demand and storage of both crude and gasoline was piling up.

The factor of 2.32 per cent of the average hourly production which the allowable of the East Texas field is based, was not changed, and would permit production at the start of the new proration period of 426,000 barrels compared with 459,300 on May 1.

Sloan Advocates New Texas Policy On Foreign Trade

DALLAS, May 19.—(AP)—Matthew S. Sloan, president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas lines, said today "the time is ripe for Texans to wage an aggressive and persistent effort for a new foreign trade policy and to fight to regain and to safeguard its markets."

He quoted figures showing the drop in value of Texas exports in the last several years and said "former levels will not and cannot again be reached until public opinion forces new public policies."

Reciprocal trade agreements, he said, have helped the situation but they "are not the complete answer."

MRS. BELLE KIBER, PIONEER CORSICANA RESIDENT, IS DEAD

Mrs. Belle Kiber, aged 70 years, resident of Corsicana for the past 54 years, died at her home, 1400 West Second avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. She had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services are planned for Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the family home with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The rites will be conducted by Rev. W. R. Hall, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Kiber was the widow of the late Dan Kiber, well-known businessman and member of the firm of Kiber and Cobb for many years.

Surviving are six children, Mrs. J. S. Ward, Alabama; D. H. Kiber, Arlington; John B. Kiber, Fort Worth; and Misses Emma D. Kiber, Ann Bell Kiber and Julia Kiber, all of Corsicana; two brothers, Alex Thomson and Harry Thomson, both of Hamilton, and a sister, Mrs. R. B. Ryan, Louisiana.

Pallbearers will be F. C. Paul, H. O. Blanding, A. F. Mitchell, John Sullivan, Allen Edens and Will Thompson.

Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home will direct the arrangements.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF MOTHER PICTURED AS COOL AFTER ARREST

SEVENTEEN-YEAR OLD GIRL ON TRIAL IN MURDER OF HER MOTHER

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 19.—(AP)—The high school chum of Gladys MacKnight told in court today how the 17-year-old girl came to her home after the hatchet slaying of her mother, "buried her face in her hands" and "was crying very hard."

"I don't remember ever having seen her cry before," said 18-year-old Doris French, testifying for the state in the murder trial of Gladys and her former sweetheart, Donald Wightman, 18.

Doris followed her mother, Mrs. Charles French, to the stand.

JERSEY CITY, May 19.—(AP)—Seventeen-year-old Gladys McKnight was portrayed in court today as a cool young woman who asked "where's the old man" after her arrest on a charge of hacking her mother to death with a hatchet.

The girl, on trial for her life with Donald Wightman, 18, her former sweetheart, for the slaying of Mrs. Helen MacKnight, 47, Bayonne club woman, also "wanted to see the newspapers," a witness said.

Gladys stared at Emily C. Hassmiller, Bayonne policewoman, as she gave this tesitmony.

The girl's tennis togs she wore when arrested were stained, the policewoman said.

The state then called Dr. William B. Braustein, pathologist and blood expert, who testified the stains on the hatchet and the dark blue clothes Gladys wore were "human blood of the same type."

A sharp kitchen knife which the defense will try to prove was used by Mrs. MacKnight to threaten her daughter bore "a minute stain on the handle," Dr. Braustein said.

There were stains "of a brownish character" on the blade, he said, but they were "too diffuse" to be analyzed.

Mother of Chum Heard.

Mrs. Doris French, mother of Gladys' high school chum, Doris French, testified the girl and Donald came to their house after the slaying.

She said Gladys rushed in shouting, "Doris, Doris."

A few minutes later, Mrs. French went upstairs, she said, and saw Gladys "sitting on the edge of Mr. French's bed," crying very hard.

"I asked her what was the matter," Mrs. French related.

"I couldn't understand what she was saying except that there was something the matter with her mother. Her hands were over her face.

"Gladys called downstairs then and told Mr. French to go and get the car key and not let Donald have the car."

"She said, 'Don't let Donald come upstairs. I dont' want to see him. I don't ever want to see him again."

Gladys did not meet Mrs. French's eyes when the mother of her best friend walked down from the witness stand and identified her.

The testimony that Gladys tried to keep Donald from fleeing was the first given thus far in the girl's favor.

Texarkana Fire Does Damage Of About $100,000

TEXARKANA, May 19—(AP)—Fire which did an estimated $100,000 damage early today threatened an entire business block and was brought under control by every available piece of fire-fighting equipment.

B. E. Moore, assistant manager of the S. H. Kress store, where the blaze was discovered, estimated the stock loss at $50,000 and believed the building loss would equal or exceed that. Basements of adjoining stores were flooded and smoke damage was considerable throughout the block.

Fire Chief Joe Benjamin said the fire was believed to have originated in the Kress basement. It raced up the elevator shaft, and made a roaring furnace of the rear end of the store when it was discovered by a policeman at 11:30 p. m.

Spectacular bursts of flame from burning candy, paint and insect spray made the fire difficult to fight. It was brought under control at 3 a. m. And firemen were still spraying the embers at 6 a. m.

Fireman Injured at Denton.

DENTON, May 19.—(AP)—Otis Liptreau, fireman, suffered a fractured vertebrae and severe bruises today when a wall fell on him as he fought a fire which damaged three downtown business buildings.

About $50,000 damage was done to a grocery store, an ice cream plant and a woman's furnishings store. Several professional offices in second stories were destroy-

SENATE OPPONENTS ROOSEVELT'S COURT BILL SEE VICTORY

WASHINGTON, May 19.—(AP)—Victorious senate foes of the Roosevelt court bill turned away from indications of administration compromise today in pursuit of a triumph on the senate floor as decisive as the adverse vote in the judiciary committee.

Opposition leaders said the measure was dead. They forecast the compromise advanced unsuccessfully in the committee by Senator Logan (D-Ky) would prove the new fighting ground.

Logan, a supporter of the President, suggested that one additional justice be appointed each year if any members of the supreme court served past 75. The number would drop back to nine when the older justices retired.

The Roosevelt bill would permit an increase up to a membership of 15 if justices over 70 1-2 did not withdraw. The court would remain permanently at the number which it was raised.

No one qualified to speak for the administration had conceded the battle for the President's bill had been dropped, but Logan said his compromise was favored by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the democratic leader.

Congressional interest in the judiciary situation was divided almost equally between speculation over the administration's position and candidates for the vacancy on the supreme court created by the retirement of Justice Van DeVanter.

Many senators expressed the view Senator Robinson would be appointed. Senator Pittman (D-Nev.) openly advocated it.

Among other names mentioned was that of Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, who said he did not wish to be considered.
